PAR ORDRE

Président du Conseil de gestion du gouvernement

1:30 P.M.13 H 30

This being the first day of the Third Session of the Thirty-seventh Parliament convoked by Proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor for the dispatch of business, and the members of the House having assembled:-

His Honour the Lieutenant Governor entered the Legislative Chamber and, having taken his seat on the Throne, was pleased to open the Session by reading the following gracious speech:

Mr. Speaker, members of the legislative assembly, citizens of Ontario:

Across Ontario, people have begun tending their gardens and greeting their neighbours over fences. Soccer and baseball fields and neighbourhood streets are filled with the sounds of children playing. Communities all across Ontario are celebrating the start of spring.

It is an honour to stand before you in a new season before a new government as Her Majesty's new representative to open this, the Third Session of the 37th parliament, and deliver the speech from the throne.

On behalf of our Sovereign, I welcome all members to this house today and recognize two former members who have recently retired from public life.

Michael Harris served as the member for Nipissing for more than two decades and as the Premier of Ontario for almost seven years. His bold and historic reforms put our province back on track, and his strong leadership forever changed Canadian politics. Former Premier Harris continues to show his commitment to the people of Ontario by chairing Ontario's Promise.

For 12 years David Tilson served the people of Dufferin-Peel-Wellington-Grey with dedication and hard work on both sides of this house. We thank him for his years of faithful service to his constituents, to the people of Ontario and to the traditions of the Legislature.

On behalf of their constituents, all members in this place share the common goal of creating a better Ontario. In acknowledgement of this important contribution, your government wants the role of private members in the Legislature enhanced.

REFLECTION AND REMEMBRANCE

Since this house last met, we have been saddened by the loss of five former members:

- Kenneth Bryden, MPP for Woodbine. Kenneth was a deep thinker, a concerned member of his community and an example of active citizenship.
- Edward R. Good, MPP for Waterloo North. Edward served as a second lieutenant with the Royal Canadian Artillery during World War II. The people of Kitchener remember him as a gentleman and a tireless worker.
- Lorne Henderson, MPP for Lambton and Minister of Agriculture. Lorne was a farmer, and other farmers knew they could always count on him to champion their needs.
- Ross MacKenzie Whicher, member for Bruce in both the provincial and federal legislatures and a former mayor of Wiarton. Ross believed in the importance of community, as he showed in his life and work.

- Harry Worton, MPP for Wellington South, was a statesman who served as a member for 30 years and was loved and respected by his colleagues on both sides of this house.

Among them, these members served the people of Ontario and their ridings for 82 years and shared a deep love of our great province.

We remember others who have meant much to Ontario and its citizens.

We remember The Queen Mother. Born at the beginning of the last century, her courage during the darkest days of World War II and lifelong compassion for others were the true source of her nobility.

In February, Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret, Countess of Snowdon passed away after a lengthy illness. The Princess had visited here on several occasions, often visiting patients at the hospital named for her.

We also think of Her Honour Pauline McGibbon, who served this province as Lieutenant Governor from 1974 to 1980. She touched the lives of people all across Ontario with her wisdom and warmth. The first female Lieutenant Governor in the Commonwealth, she was a role model for many.

There are other role models who risk their lives every day to protect our communities and our country.

This past weekend, Ontario honoured Toronto Police Services Constable Laura Ellis, who died while responding to an emergency call, and Constable Millard Brennan, who lost his life in the line of duty in 1951. On Tuesday, we learned of another loss. First Nations Constable Paul Neudert from the Walpole Island Police Service died in a tragic car accident near Wallaceburg while on duty. Our thoughts are with his friends and family.

We must never forget the sacrifices our police officers make and we express our gratitude to all of the women and men in uniform across Ontario, ever mindful of the words on Ontario's Police Memorial — "Heroes in life, not death."

We must not forget firefighters who have lost their lives ensuring people's safety. This year, your government will work with the fire services community to create a firefighters' memorial on the grounds of Queen's Park.

Our hearts go out to the families of Sergeant Marc Léger, Corporal Ainsworth Dyer, Private Richard Green and Private Nathan Smith, the four members of Canada's Armed Forces killed in Afghanistan. Together with the more than 112,000 Canadian soldiers killed in combat and the 108 who have died in peacekeeping missions, they remind us that we must often pay a great price to keep the peace and protect our freedoms.

On September 11th, that peace and those freedoms were threatened. Across Canada, our citizens took stranded travellers into their homes. Volunteers drove hundreds of kilometres to New York and Washington to lend a hand. In reaching out to help our neighbours to the south, Ontarians demonstrated the values that have made our province great.

We pay tribute to the Ontario victims of that tragedy, including David Barkway, whose wife, Cindy, recently gave birth to their son, David. While we share the sense of loss with Cindy and the families of the victims, we also share the joy that comes with new life and a renewed sense of hope for the future.

A NEW ERA FOR ONTARIO

Just as spring marks a time of renewal and transition, so too does this speech from the throne symbolize a new era for Ontario.

Ontario today is a different place than it was a few short years, indeed even a few short months ago. The actions your government took over the past seven years were right for the times. Unemployment was high. Spending was out of control. High taxes were killing growth and jobs. Those were the challenges we have met thanks to years of hard work.

Once again, Ontario is strong, confident and moving forward. Full of pride. Full of hope.

But the job is never done.

New challenges have tested who we are as a province and as a people.

From this we have learned a great deal.

We have learned that we are not isolated from the events that shape our world. That even the strongest of foundations can be shaken.

But we have also learned that, through closer co-operation among governments, communities, cultures and neighbours, we can accomplish much.

The challenge now is to guide our province smoothly through a new era. We must protect the best of what we have while changing what is necessary to improve the lives of Ontarians.

Government is not the only answer to this challenge.

Responsible government knows its place. It understands where it does not belong and it is prepared to get out of the way.

But responsive government also recognizes where it has a role to play to provide leadership and take action in the best interests of all Ontarians. And it has the courage to play that role.

Your new government promises to deliver both responsible and responsive leadership.

Leadership that encourages Ontario's competitiveness and protects the gains we have made over the past seven years through tax cuts and sound fiscal management. It is a job that is never done.

Leadership with the strength to listen and the courage to act, blending common sense solutions with a common sense of purpose.

In providing Ontarians with that leadership, your government's priorities are clear: to uphold the fundamentals that have enabled us to rebuild our great province but at the same time make the changes necessary to respond to a new Ontario.

Ontarians have said they do not want classrooms and hospitals to be battlegrounds. Your government has heard that message.

Ontario's goals can only be achieved by working in partnership with educators and health care providers. Although, from time to time, there may be disagreements on the best way to get there, your government will not waver in its belief that Ontarians share its priorities and it will do what it takes to achieve these important objectives.

The last few years required difficult choices. But those are not the same choices we face today. New challenges require new solutions.

In response to the need for more stability in education and health care, your government will introduce three-year base funding for school boards and hospitals. Over the next year, your government will work to develop a model for multi-year base funding that ensures improved accountability, accessibility and fairness.

As well, it will change its budget cycle, delivering budgets before the start of the fiscal year. This will help ministries, public institutions and the government plan and budget in a way that better meets the needs of Ontario's citizens.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY IN EDUCATION

Ontario's young people — no matter who they are or where they live — deserve the opportunity to contribute to and benefit from the gains we have made as a province.

Establishing the foundation for excellence in education in all parts of Ontario was the first step in that direction. Ontario's education reforms have begun to achieve accountability and quality in our schools and classrooms. A more rigorous, standardized curriculum means students in every corner of our province are getting the same excellent education. New report cards are helping parents monitor their children's progress.

Standardized tests for students are helping to ensure that what is taught is learned and what is learned is relevant. Qualification requirements for teachers are helping to ensure that teachers are well equipped to plan appropriate programs for students.

At the end of the day, students, teachers, parents and government share the common goal of ensuring that all Ontario students have an equal opportunity for a quality education.

But Ontario cannot put students first without listening to their parents and teachers. Your government is doing that.

To excel, young people must have the tools to master the new curriculum, year after year. Your government heard from students, parents and teachers that students across our province needed more textbooks.

The first priority of your new government has been to address this need. Three weeks ago, your Premier and the Minister of Education announced an additional $65 million in funding for textbooks and learning resources for our students. Your government will continue to monitor needs for future years.

The introduction of student-focused funding in 1997 was designed to ensure that resources were invested where they matter most. Your government remains committed to that goal, but Ontarians have expressed concerns that the current formula is not achieving that. Students in communities from Cochrane to Cornwall, from Point Pelee to Pickle Lake, have different needs. Your government is acting immediately to address this and give Ontario students the resources they need.

Your government is today announcing that respected educator, Dr. Mordechai Rozanski, president of the University of Guelph, has agreed to lead a task force to review the current funding formula. That process will begin tomorrow.

The Education Equality Task Force will report back by November 1, 2002, with recommendations on ways to improve fairness, certainty and stability for our schools and our students.

Last year, your government introduced a flexible funding amount of $100 per student, which school boards can use to address local priorities. This year, your government will build on this commitment with additional funding and stability.

Your government will also introduce a Quality in the Classroom Fund to ensure that schools can move forward with creative solutions to enhance student achievement.

Reading, writing and mathematics are the foundation of a strong education. One week ago, your government announced $25 million to expand the Early Reading program and introduce a new Early Math program across the province.

Ontario's young people with special needs must also have the support they require in our school system. Your government will continue to make support for special education a priority.

Your government is committed to attracting the best people to the teaching profession and enabling them to excel, ensuring that their skills and knowledge stay up to date. It will ensure that teachers have the training they need to teach the new curriculum and will work with them on a means of measuring the currency of their skills in today's learning environment.

Your government remains committed to choice and fairness in Ontario's education system. Working together with parents, your government will design a means of measuring the progress of students in core subjects as it implements the Equity in Education Tax Credit.

Equality of opportunity is also the goal of our post-secondary education system. Capable students, regardless of their economic circumstances, deserve the chance for a brighter future.

That is why your government introduced the Student Opportunity Trust Fund to help thousands of young people get a post-secondary education. Approximately 185,000 students who have the academic qualifications but lack the financial resources will benefit from the fund. Your government will increase that fund to give 400,000 students over the next decade the chance to reach their potential.

Because some students require extra support throughout their studies, your government will expand the Learning Opportunities Program. Under the direction of Dr. Bette Stephenson, the program helps students with learning disabilities take advantage of post-secondary learning opportunities. Your government will expand the program to include all of Ontario's 18 public universities and 24 community colleges.

Students and their parents want to know that the dream of a post-secondary education can be pursued right here in Ontario. That is why your government made the single-largest capital investment in colleges and universities in more than 30 years.

Standing firmly behind its commitment that willing and qualified Ontario students will have a place in our post-secondary system, your government and its partners provided an additional $1.8 billion to create 73,000 new student spaces across the province. Building on these previous commitments, your government will provide further resources to post-secondary institutions to meet the higher-than-projected student demand.

Ontario has already committed to an additional $293 million for investments in teaching and supplies and it will work with colleges and universities to accommodate more Ontario students in the post-secondary system.

One example of innovation has been expanding applied degrees to colleges. Your government will work with education providers to further expand this program and find other solutions that recognize the needs of both students and industry as we improve our competitiveness throughout the world.

Ontarians should have an opportunity to work and develop their skills in their own communities. That is why your government believes in province-wide access to leading-edge apprenticeship and training programs.

In the spirit of co-operation, Ontario's Minister of Training, Colleges and Universities invites the federal government to sign the Labour Market Development Agreement. This agreement would allow Ontarians to access almost $600 million in apprenticeship and skills-training funds.

ECONOMIC GROWTH AND INNOVATION

Successive generations of industrious and innovative Ontarians have built a multi-faceted, high-tech, manufacturing and exporting powerhouse that generates incredible wealth.

Your government has not lost sight of the fact that Ontario has regained its place as the engine of prosperity in Canada through hard work and the commitment of all Ontarians:

882,700 new jobs in Ontario since 1995 — 59,400 in the last six months alone;

600,000 people who have a paycheque instead of a welfare cheque;

More young families who are discovering the pride and freedom that come with owning a home;

Robust job creation, consumer and business confidence, consumer spending and housing markets point to growth — proof that Ontario is on the right track.

But the job of keeping Ontario competitive is not done. It will never be done.

Your government will continue to focus on improving Ontario's competitiveness through tax cuts.

Your government will look to the experiences — the successes and the challenges — of the last seven years. It will seek the ideas of the enterprising women and men of this province for ways to be more competitive and increase productivity — the keys to keeping our province a leader in Canada and a competitive force around the world.

This province was not immune to the market and economic fallout of the September 11th attack on our closest neighbour and largest trading partner.

The ensuing economic slowdown continues to resonate today and it has affected the province's financial resources.

Dealing with this situation will require continued sound fiscal management and difficult decisions. Your government is prepared to make those decisions and take the necessary action to keep Ontario strong and growing.

More than 1 million Ontario jobs depend on trade with the province's largest trading partner, the United States. In the year 2001 alone, Ontario exported more than $200 billion in goods and services to the United States. Your government believes that the only way Ontario will continue to be prosperous is to maintain the free flow of goods, services and people across the border.

The newly created Ministry of Public Safety and Security will help maintain the physical and economic security of Ontario. There will be a central leadership role for the ministry, which bridges all provincial ministries and agencies.

Following September 11th, your government took measures such as passing tough new legislation to protect vital documents, including birth certificates. Your government will continue to provide security but it cannot proceed alone. That is why it wants to work with Ottawa to create a North American security perimeter so that border trade and travel can continue to flow smoothly and safely.

Your government recognizes the importance of working with the federal government to enrich the arts and cultural institutions. Your Minister of Culture will play an active role in this important initiative.

To enable all regions of this province to take advantage of Ontario's growth and compete in a global economy, our province needs a continuous supply of innovative ideas and policies. The new Ministry of Enterprise, Opportunity and Innovation is a clear demonstration of your government's commitment to competitiveness through innovation.

Globally, Ontario is a leader in the biotechnology sector. Reflecting this strength, in June, Toronto will host the Bio2002 conference, the world's largest biotechnology conference.

Your government continues to promote research and innovation through its Research and Development Challenge Fund. Since 1997, the fund has announced more than $377 million of public-sector funding and leveraged nearly $1 billion in private-sector investments for 88 projects in universities, colleges, hospitals and research institutions around the province.

It will also expand its investment in the knowledge economy by supporting universities and research institutions in creative ways. For example, it has entered a partnership to help create a Medical and Related Services Discovery District in downtown Toronto, which will help move medical research forward. It has also committed to a research and technology park at the University of Waterloo, which will employ up to 6,000 people.

ACCESS TO HEALTH CARE TODAY AND TOMORROW

Ontario is a global leader in cancer research, but your government believes it can do more to fight this devastating disease, which takes so many forms and affects so many families.

Today, over half of all adults and 75 per cent of children diagnosed with cancer survive. Your government will work to eradicate this disease and will launch a concentrated effort to combat its two leading killers, breast and prostate cancer.

Leading scientists and medical experts say that finding a cure for breast and prostate cancer is achievable in the next decade. Ontario's Research and Development Challenge Fund will lead a team of experts in this endeavor.

Ontario has the expertise. It has the will. It has the innovators and it will devote even more resources to find that cure.

Also, your government will immediately expand the scope of Ontario's Cancer Research Network Fund so research on all forms of cancer will be eligible for funding. Over the next three years, your government will expand the number of clinical trials for promising new treatments so that twice as many patients can benefit from this research.

We all feel a sense of pride in our universal health care system, which has been the envy of the world since it was established nearly 40 years ago. Today, however, that system is under stress because of the pressures of a growing and aging population and the cost of new technologies and treatments.

The Kirby and Mazankowski reports, together with the upcoming Romanow Commission report, all discuss the future of health care. And your government has undertaken its own consultation with patients, their families and health care providers all across our province.

People across Ontario have said the same things.

Ontarians want a system that encourages wellness and healthy living.

Ontarians want a quick and accurate diagnosis.

Ontarians want access to timely treatment.

Ontarians want to be able to find nurses and a family doctor in their own communities.

Your government has heard you. It is acting to respond to your concerns. Your government is committed to improving access so Ontarians can get the care they need where and when they need it.

This is a new era in Ontario, and the process to fix our health care system has only just begun.

Since 1995, 31 new MRIs have been added, bringing the total in the province to 43. Your government will continue to add to the number of MRI machines and will begin immediately to increase their OHIP-funded hours of operation by 90 per cent.

Your government will find more innovative ways to deliver and expand other diagnostic and treatment procedures and services so they are more accessible to all Ontarians.

All Ontarians, no matter where they live, must have health care close to home. Today in our province, there are many people who don't have doctors and communities that are under-served. Families in many communities urgently need more physicians.

Ontario has started to address this problem by helping to pay the tuition of doctors who choose to locate in areas that need doctors.

But there is more to do.

Your government will proceed with a new northern medical school. Full campuses in Sudbury and Thunder Bay will train more doctors and encourage them to practise in the north.

Your government will work with the health-care community in Ontario to encourage more foreign-trained doctors to locate in under-served areas and increase the certification rate of these skilled individuals.

Family Health Networks, designed to increase access to service, are another important part of your government's plan. Fourteen pilot projects are underway around Ontario, and the government's target is to have 80 per cent of eligible family physicians practising in networks.

One important component of Family Health Networks valued by many Ontarians is nurse practitioners.

That is why your government will work to break down the barriers faced by nurse practitioners. Your government will more than double the number of nurse practitioners and expand their role to include long-term care facilities, community health centres and emergency rooms. Nurse practitioners will be encouraged to work in communities that have been without physicians for an extended period of time.

Just yesterday, your Minister of Health and Long-Term Care announced $3 million in projects that would see 12 communities — which had previously been without a family physician for an extended period of time — cared for by nurse practitioners.

Your government knows that, if money were the only solution, Ontario's health care problems would be solved by now. Money alone is not the solution. Neither is the status quo.

Your government recognizes the private sector's contribution in our publicly funded system — as donors and supporters of our hospitals and research and also in the delivery of many services. Your government is committed to finding new ways to foster innovation, based on partnerships with the private sector, while preserving our universally accessible health care.

Ontario is eager to move toward multi-year base funding for our hospitals. This funding model allows hospitals to better plan around the needs of their communities and those who need care. As it moves towards its goal of multi-year base funding, Ontario needs the federal government's partnership in health care.

Your government believes that leadership on health care in today's Ontario means having the courage to debate honestly, while protecting the universality of the single-tier system that is a hallmark of our province and our country.

Fixing our system will require strength, courage and commitment on the part of all governments and indeed all citizens — those who use the services and those who provide them — to admit what has not worked and to reach out to find what will work.

Your government's health-care strategy will be guided by a clear goal — improving access in a sustainable way for the people of this province, no matter where they live.

Your new government is prepared to be a leader in addressing the problems that face the health care system, but that will not be easy. It will require the strength to lead. The courage to listen. The will to do what is right.

PLANNING TO MEET THE DIVERSE NEEDS OF ALL REGIONS

Ontario's diverse neighbourhoods, people and geography make our province the best place in the world to live, work and raise a family. Ontario is a dynamic mix of 165 cultural communities. Its blend of voices, beliefs and backgrounds enriches us all, both culturally and economically.

Recognizing the benefits of our diversity, your government will host an international conference showcasing Ontario's successes and exploring the ways our diverse and talented population can help strengthen our global competitiveness.

Your government will celebrate our ethnic and regional diversity and use its strength to benefit citizens all across the province.

In doing so, your government also recognizes that different areas of Ontario face different challenges. That is why, for the first time, Ontario has two associate ministers to address the specific needs of urban and rural Ontario. It also has a plan to keep all of Ontario's communities strong.

Ontario's Smart Growth plan will promote and manage growth in ways that sustain a strong economy, build strong communities and promote a healthy environment. Smart Growth is a flexible yet comprehensive plan to deal with the pressures of Ontario's growing population and its need for new transit and roads as well as its need to keep goods and people moving. Finding ways to promote and manage growth in ways that make sense for each region is the job of Ontario's Smart Growth panels. These panels bring together a broad range of interests — governments, businesses, community and environmental groups — to help ensure a high quality of life for all citizens now and in the future.

Investing in an efficient, modern public transit system is another part of the plan. Your government's $9-billion transit plan will help ensure that Ontario has a transit system that keeps people moving and protects the environment. Your government is confident it can work with its federal and municipal partners to support Ontario's Transit Renewal Program.

Your government will also study transit innovations like the multi-system transit card, which will improve customer service by creating a seamless trip for riders across a region's large and complex network.

Planning for the future means developing a modern, safe and efficient highway system to link Ontario's diverse cities and towns, relieve congestion on our roads and help all regions prosper. Your government will continue to invest to expand and maintain our province's highways.

Planning for the future also means allowing smaller and more remote regions of the province to take advantage of the economic growth seen in larger urban centres. That is why your government will introduce legislation to create tax-incentive zones. These zones will encourage both large and small businesses to invest, relocate or expand in rural and northern communities, creating economic growth and giving young people the opportunity to live, work, raise a family and give back to the communities where they grew up.

Appropriate funding is also vital to planning at the community level. Municipalities must be able to move forward with important infrastructure projects such as new water-treatment facilities, sewers and roads. Your government will introduce legislation to allow municipalities to offer Opportunity Bonds tax-free to investors, allowing for more infrastructure development and giving municipalities more control at the local level.

Planning for the future also means protecting our traditions. We must remember that agriculture is not only a business. It is a way of life; and it is a way of life that is at risk.

As one of his first actions, your Premier met with members of the agricultural community. On June 6, at a round table to be held in Guelph, your government will again meet with farm leaders to identify key issues and establish priorities to keep Ontario's agricultural sector vibrant.

Your government is concerned about the possible implications of family farm unionization. While respecting individual and constitutional rights, it will work to protect farmers and their livelihoods in what have proven to be challenging times. Ontario's harvests and food supply must not be vulnerable to disruptions caused by strikes and lockouts.

Like Ontario's farmers, your government understands that protecting the environment is vital to the future of the family farm. It remains committed to the Nutrient Management Bill, which would protect the environment by setting and enforcing clear, consistent standards for nutrient management on farms.

PLANNING STRONG COMMUNITIES THROUGH ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION

Planning for the future also means protecting our water and air.

In recognition of this, your government will move forward with its clean-water strategy to ensure a clean supply of water for future generations.

Your government knows that we must all work harder to protect and preserve our environment. Our environment should be a legacy we pass on to our children and grandchildren. It should not be a burden for them to bear.

Your government is committed to ensuring that Ontario has and enforces the best and toughest clean-water policy in the world. Ontario's Clean Water Legacy Trust will focus your government's actions, policies, reporting and enforcement efforts towards this critical goal. It will use its resources to bring federal, local and private-sector funding to the table to rebuild our water infrastructure.

A Clean Water Centre of Excellence, located in Walkerton, will co-ordinate research and training for those who work in the field. This centre will link the best research and the best scientific minds available.

All 28 recommendations in Justice O'Connor's first report on Walkerton are being implemented. Your government will take additional steps in response to Justice O'Connor's second report, expected later this month.

Your government also believes that we must explore 21st-century sources of energy. Your government looks forward to the report by the Select Committee on Alternative Fuels, expected at the end of this month. The report will help guide the government as it works with Ontario's environmental industries to keep our air clean and promote green sources of power, such as wind and hydrogen power.

PROTECTING CONSUMERS AND ONTARIO'S ELECTRICITY SUPPLY

Just as our health system is a hallmark of our society, so too is our reliable supply of electricity. For generations, it has powered our province's industries and generated much of our wealth.

It is necessary to renew and expand our electricity infrastructure to meet the needs of our growing and changing province. Your government understands the recent significant events that have taken place in the energy sector and recognizes the need to ensure that Ontarians can depend on having reliable, accessible and affordable electricity today and in the future.

Your Premier has clearly stated that your government's plans for restructuring Ontario's electricity sector will include four important objectives:

First, it will ensure an efficient supply of energy that is competitive for the people of Ontario and in the international marketplace.

Second, it will ensure that the necessary capital is provided to rebuild and modernize the transmission and distribution of power in Ontario.

Third, it will bring market discipline to Hydro One — the province's transmission company — and prevent any possibility of the recurrence of staggering debts, such as the current $38 billion debt, while eliminating it.

And fourth, it will achieve these goals while protecting consumers.

Your government believes the people of Ontario should have a voice in the future direction of one of Ontario's most important resources. Your government has the courage to listen, the willingness to consult and the ability to take the right course of action in the interest of all Ontarians.

KEEPING COMMUNITIES SAFE

Your government will also act to protect communities, families and individuals.

Your government is committed to protecting children caught in the misery of prostitution and holding those who would profit from their exploitation accountable for the consequences of their actions.

Every year, thousands of children see violence in their homes. These children are at risk and often continue a legacy of family violence themselves. Your government will continue to help children who are trapped in violent family situations.

Your government has zero tolerance for violence against women. It is encouraged by the progress that has been made and it will continue to build on relationships with shelters, educators, legal-advocacy programs and child-care centres on ways to support front-line workers. Domestic violence tears families apart, targets the vulnerable and destroys communities. Your government will continue its fight against this crime.

Biker gangs pose another threat to our communities. Your government will continue to support the OPP anti-biker gang squad to protect our communities.

Your government will create a task force to help reform correctional services in Ontario in consultation with stakeholders, front-line staff and management. It will also use state-of-the-art electronic surveillance technologies to more closely supervise and monitor targeted offenders to keep them accountable and our communities safe.

Your government will continue to ensure that police officers, firefighters and paramedics have the tools and training they need to do their vital jobs.

They — and we — will sleep more soundly, knowing that our communities are safe.

CONCLUSION

This spring, the hard-working people of Ontario are looking ahead with a renewed sense of optimism because we know we have much for which to be thankful.

We know that our province is strong because its people are strong.

We see that strength in our teachers, whose patience, professionalism and wisdom make them great role models for our children.

We see it in the compassion, dedication and devotion of our nurses and doctors.

We see it in the duty and honour of our police officers, firefighters and soldiers who serve and protect us.

We see it in the entrepreneurs, small business owners, factory workers, public servants, volunteers and countless others whose hard work is the heartbeat of a great province.

We know that we are rich in diversity, plentiful in resources and blessed with peace and safety.

We know that, by working together, we can ensure that communities, cultures and individuals all across our province can flourish and grow.

Your government knows that, with continued diligence, sound fiscal management and competitive tax measures, Ontario will see more jobs, more prosperity and greater opportunity.

Your government knows that the trust of Ontario's citizens is something that must be earned each day.

Your government will work hard to earn that trust.

God bless Canada. God bless Ontario. God save the Queen.

Monsieur le président, Mesdames et Messieurs les membres de l'Assemblée législative, citoyennes et citoyens de l'Ontario.

Partout en Ontario, les gens s'affairent dans leur jardin et reprennent contact avec leurs voisins. Les terrains de soccer et de baseball, et les rues de quartier se remplissent du cri joyeux des enfants qui jouent. Aux quatre coins de la province, les collectivités célèbrent l'arrivée du printemps.

C'est un honneur pour moi d'être ici devant vous, alors que commence une nouvelle saison, devant un nouveau gouvernement, en tant que nouveau représentant de Sa Majesté, pour ouvrir cette troisième session de la 37^e Législature et prononcer le discours du Trône.

Au nom de notre souveraine, je souhaite aujourd'hui la bienvenue à tous les députés de l'Assemblée législative et je rends hommage à deux de leurs collègues qui se sont récemment retirés de la vie publique.

Michael Harris a été député de Nipissing pendant plus de 20 ans et premier ministre de l'Ontario pendant près de sept ans. Ses réformes audacieuses et historiques ont remis notre province sur la bonne voie et son leadership énergique a changé pour toujours la politique canadienne. L'ancien premier ministre Harris continuera à témoigner de son dévouement à la population ontarienne en assurant la présidence de La promesse de l'Ontario.

Pendant 12 ans, David Tilson a servi la population de Dufferin-Peel-Wellington-Grey avec générosité et ardeur d'un côté comme de l'autre de l'Assemblée législative. Nous le remercions des bons et loyaux services qu'il a rendus à ses électeurs et à la population de l'Ontario dans le respect des traditions de l'Assemblée législative.

Pour le bien de leurs électeurs, tous les membres de l'Assemblée législative partagent le même but, l'épanouissement de l'Ontario. Pour reconnaître cette importante contribution, votre gouvernement souhaite rehausser le rôle des simples députés.

UN MOMENT DE RÉFLEXION ET DE SOUVENIR

Depuis la dernière réunion de l'Assemblée législative, nous avons été attristés d'apprendre la disparition de cinq anciens députés :

- Kenneth Bryden, député de Woodbine. Il était connu pour sa sagacité, avait à cœur la collectivité et était un exemple de civisme actif.
- Edward R. Good, député de Waterloo-Nord. Il avait été sous-lieutenant de l'Artillerie royale canadienne pendant la Deuxième Guerre mondiale. La population de Kitchener se souvient de lui comme d'un homme courtois et d'un travailleur inlassable.

- Lorne Henderson, député de Lambton et ministre de l'Agriculture. M. Henderson était lui-même un fermier et les agriculteurs savaient qu'ils pouvaient toujours compter sur lui pour défendre leurs intérêts.
- Ross MacKenzie Whicher, député de Bruce aux paliers provincial et fédéral, et ancien maire de Wiarton. M. MacKenzie croyait en l'importance de la collectivité, comme il l'a démontré dans sa vie et dans son travail.
- Harry Worton, député de Wellington-Sud. Député pendant 30 ans, il était très respecté de ses collègues d'un côté comme de l'autre de l'Assemblée législative.

Tous ensemble, ces députés ont servi la population de l'Ontario et leur circonscription pendant 82 ans, et il ont partagé un attachement profond pour notre grande province.

Nous nous souvenons d'autres personnes qui ont beaucoup compté pour l'Ontario et sa population.

Nous nous souvenons de la Reine Mère, née à l'aube du siècle dernier. Son courage pendant les jours les plus sombres de la Deuxième Guerre mondiale et sa grande compassion pour autrui étaient la source véritable de sa noblesse.

En février, Son Altesse royale la princesse Margaret, comtesse de Snowdon, est décédée des suites d'une longue maladie. La princesse s'était rendue plusieurs fois en Ontario, visitant souvent des patients à l'hôpital qui porte son nom.

Nous pensons également à Son Honneur Pauline McGibbon qui a servi cette province à titre de lieutenant-gouverneure de 1974 à 1980. Chaleureuse et d'une grande sagesse, elle a marqué la vie d'une multitude d'Ontariennes et Ontariens. Première femme à devenir lieutenant-gouverneure du Commonwealth, elle a servi de modèle à beaucoup.

Il y a d'autres personnes exemplaires qui risquent chaque jour leur vie pour protéger nos collectivités et notre pays.

Au cours de la fin de semaine dernière, nous avons rendu hommage à l'agente des services policiers de Toronto, Laura Ellis, qui a trouvé la mort en répondant à un appel d'urgence, et à l'agent Millard Brennan, qui a été tué dans l'exercice de ses fonctions en 1951. Mardi, nous apprenions un autre décès, celui de l'agent des services de police de Walpole Island, Paul Neudert, membre des Premières nations, qui a trouvé la mort dans l'exercice de ses fonctions suite à un tragique accident de voiture près de Wallaceburg. Nous nous associons au deuil de sa famille et de ses amis.

Nous n'oublierons jamais les sacrifices de ces agents et nous tenons à exprimer notre reconnaissance à tous les hommes et toutes les femmes en uniforme de la province, en gardant toujours à l'esprit ces mots inscrits sur le monument commémoratif de la police de l'Ontario : « C'est la vie qui en a fait des héros et non la mort ».

Nous n'oublierons jamais les pompiers qui ont perdu la vie en assurant la sécurité des autres. Votre gouvernement travaillera cette année, de concert avec les services de prévention des incendies, à l'érection d'un monument en hommage aux pompiers, sur le terrain de Queen's Park.

Nos pensées vont vers la famille du sergent Marc Léger, du caporal Ainsworth Dyer, du soldat Richard Green et du soldat Nathan Smith, les quatre membres des Forces armées canadiennes qui sont morts en Afghanistan. Tout comme les soldats canadiens tués au combat, dont le nombre dépasse 112 000, et les 108 autres qui ont trouvé la mort dans des missions de maintien de la paix, ils nous rappellent qu'il en coûte parfois très cher d'assurer la paix et de protéger nos libertés.

Le 11 septembre dernier, cette paix et ces libertés ont été menacées. Partout au Canada, des hommes et des femmes ont accueilli chez eux des voyageurs bloqués au pays. Des bénévoles ont parcouru des centaines de kilomètres en voiture pour aller prêter main-forte à New York et à Washington. En tendant la main pour prêter secours à ses voisins du sud, la population ontarienne a témoigné des valeurs qui font la grandeur de notre province.

Nous rendons hommage aux victimes ontariennes de cette tragédie, notamment David Barkway, dont l'épouse, Cindy, a récemment donné naissance à leur fils, un petit garçon nommé David. Nous partageons la douleur de Cindy et des familles des victimes, mais nous partageons aussi la joie qui accompagne l'apparition d'une nouvelle vie et l'espoir que cela représente pour l'avenir.

UNE ÈRE NOUVELLE POUR L'ONTARIO

À la façon du printemps qui marque un temps de renouveau et de transition, le présent discours du Trône ouvre une ère nouvelle pour l'Ontario.

L'Ontario d'aujourd'hui est bien différent de ce qu'il était il y a quelques années, voire de ce qu'il était il y a quelques mois. Les mesures prises au cours des sept dernières années par votre gouvernement convenaient à l'époque. Le taux de chômage était élevé. On avait perdu tout contrôle des dépenses. Les impôts excessifs nuisaient à la croissance et à l'emploi. Tels étaient les défis que nous avons relevés grâce à des années de travail acharné.

Une fois de plus, l'Ontario est une province forte, marquée par la confiance et la foi dans l'avenir. Remplie de fierté. Remplie d'espoir.

Mais la tâche n'est jamais terminée.

De nouveaux défis nous ont obligés à nous redéfinir, aussi bien comme province qu'à titre personnel.

Ils nous ont permis d'apprendre beaucoup de choses.

Nous avons appris que nous n'étions pas isolés des événements qui façonnent le monde. Et que même les fondations les plus solides peuvent être ébranlées.

Mais nous avons aussi appris qu'une coopération accrue entre gouvernements, collectivités, cultures et voisins pouvait permettre d'accomplir bien des choses.

Le défi consiste maintenant à guider sans heurt notre province vers une ère nouvelle. Il s'agit de préserver ce que nous avons de mieux tout en apportant les changements nécessaires pour améliorer la vie des Ontariennes et Ontariens.

Le gouvernement ne constitue pas la seule solution à ce défi.

Un gouvernement responsable connaît ses limites. Il sait quand il n'est pas nécessaire et il est prêt à céder la place quand il le faut.

Mais un gouvernement réceptif sait aussi reconnaître quand il a un rôle de leadership à jouer et des mesures à prendre dans le meilleur intérêt de la population ontarienne. Et il a le courage de le faire.

Votre nouveau gouvernement promet de faire preuve d'un leadership responsable et attentif.

Un leadership qui favorise la compétitivité de l'Ontario et qui préserve les gains remportés au cours des sept dernières années grâce aux réductions d'impôt et à une gestion budgétaire judicieuse. C'est un travail qui n'est jamais terminé.

Un leadership qui a la force d'écouter et le courage d'agir en faisant appel au bon sens pour atteindre l'objectif commun.

En offrant un tel leadership à la population ontarienne, votre gouvernement énonce clairement ses priorités : défendre les principes fondamentaux qui nous ont permis de rebâtir notre grande province tout en apportant les changements nécessaires pour tenir compte de ce qu'il y a de nouveau en Ontario.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont déclaré qu'ils ne voulaient pas que les salles de classe et les hôpitaux soient des champs de bataille. Le gouvernement a entendu le message.

On ne peut réaliser les objectifs de la province qu'en collaboration avec les éducateurs et les fournisseurs de soins de santé. Bien qu'il y ait parfois désaccord sur la meilleure façon d'y parvenir, votre gouvernement reste fermement convaincu que les Ontariennes et Ontariens partagent ses priorités, et il fera le nécessaire pour atteindre ces objectifs importants.

Il a fallu faire des choix difficiles au cours des dernières années. Les choix ne sont pas les mêmes aujourd'hui. De nouveaux défis exigent des solutions nouvelles.

Devant le besoin de stabilité accrue des systèmes d'éducation et de santé, votre gouvernement offrira immédiatement un financement de base étalé sur trois ans aux conseils scolaires et aux hôpitaux. Au cours du prochain exercice, il mettra au point un modèle de financement de base pluriannuel qui permettra d'améliorer la responsabilisation, l'accessibilité et l'équité.

De plus, le gouvernement modifiera son cycle budgétaire en déposant son budget avant le début de l'exercice financier, ce qui aidera les ministères, les établissements publics et l'appareil gouvernemental à mieux planifier et à dresser des budgets qui répondent davantage aux besoins de la population de l'Ontario.

ÉGALITÉ DES CHANCES EN ÉDUCATION

Les jeunes de l'Ontario, quels qu'ils soient et où qu'ils vivent, méritent qu'on leur donne la chance de contribuer aux gains réalisés par la province et d'en bénéficier.

La pose des fondations de l'excellence en éducation dans toutes les régions de l'Ontario a été la première étape dans ce sens. Les réformes de l'éducation commencent maintenant à produire responsabilité et qualité dans les écoles et les salles de classe. Grâce à un curriculum plus rigoureux et normalisé, les élèves de toutes les régions de la province bénéficient de la même excellente éducation. Les nouveaux bulletins scolaires aident les parents à mesurer les progrès de leurs enfants.

Les tests normalisés pour les élèves permettent de vérifier que ce qui est enseigné est acquis, et que ce qui est acquis est pertinent, et les exigences de qualification contribuent à assurer que les enseignantes et enseignants ont les compétences nécessaires pour offrir des programmes pertinents à leurs élèves.

Au bout du compte, les élèves, le personnel enseignant, les parents et le gouvernement partagent le même objectif, à savoir que tous les élèves de l'Ontario aient un accès équitable à une éducation de qualité.

Mais on ne peut pas accorder la priorité aux élèves sans prêter l'oreille à leurs parents et au personnel enseignant. Et c'est ce que fait votre gouvernement.

Si l'on veut favoriser l'excellence chez les jeunes, par exemple, il faut leur donner les outils nécessaires pour qu'ils maîtrisent le nouveau curriculum année après année. Le gouvernement a pris bonne note de ce que les élèves, les parents et le personnel enseignant lui ont dit, à savoir que les élèves de toute la province ont besoin de plus de manuels scolaires.

Votre nouveau gouvernement a immédiatement décidé de répondre à ce besoin. Il y a trois semaines, le premier ministre et la ministre de l'Éducation ont annoncé un financement supplémentaire de 65 millions de dollars destiné aux manuels et autres ressources d'apprentissage pour les élèves. Votre gouvernement continuera à rester attentif aux besoins des prochaines années.

En 1997, le lancement d'un financement axé sur les élèves avait pour objectif d'investir les ressources là où elles étaient le plus nécessaires. Votre gouvernement est toujours déterminé à poursuivre cet objectif, mais les Ontariennes et Ontariens nous ont fait savoir que la formule en vigueur ne convenait pas. Dans les diverses collectivités, de Cochrane à Cornwall, de la pointe Pelée à Pickle Lake, les besoins des élèves ne sont pas les mêmes. Votre gouvernement a donc décidé de prendre immédiatement des mesures pour remédier à ce problème et doter les élèves de l'Ontario des ressources nécessaires.

Le gouvernement annonce aujourd'hui que Mordechai Rozanski, pédagogue chevronné et président de l'Université de Guelph, a accepté de diriger un groupe d'étude chargé d'examiner la formule de financement actuelle. Ce processus commencera dès demain.

Le Groupe d'étude sur l'égalité en matière d'éducation présentera son rapport d'ici le 1^{er} novembre 2002 et formulera des recommandations sur les moyens de procurer équité, certitude et stabilité aux écoles et aux élèves.

L'an dernier, votre gouvernement a adopté une formule de financement souple, d'un montant de 100 $ par élève, pour permettre aux conseils scolaires de tenir compte des priorités locales. Cette année, il renouvellera son engagement et augmentera ce financement, renforçant ainsi la stabilité.

Votre gouvernement établira aussi un Fonds pour la qualité dans les salles de classe pour voir à ce que les écoles adoptent des solutions novatrices qui favorisent la réussite scolaire.

La lecture, l'écriture et les mathématiques forment les bases d'une bonne éducation. Il y a une semaine, votre gouvernement a annoncé un financement de 25 millions de dollars qui servira à élargir le programme de lecture et à lancer un programme de mathématiques au primaire dans toute la province.

Les jeunes de l'Ontario ayant des besoins particuliers doivent également jouir de l'appui nécessaire dans le système scolaire. Votre gouvernement continuera à accorder la priorité au soutien des programmes pour l'enfance en difficulté.

Votre gouvernement est déterminé à attirer les meilleurs éléments dans la profession enseignante et à leur permettre d'exceller en veillant à ce que leurs compétences et leurs connaissances restent à jour. Il verra donc à ce que les membres du personnel enseignant reçoivent la formation nécessaire pour enseigner le nouveau curriculum et cherchera avec eux des moyens de mesurer l'actualité des compétences dans le milieu de l'enseignement d'aujourd'hui.

Votre gouvernement continue d'attacher la plus haute importance au choix et à l'équité dans le système d'éducation de l'Ontario. En collaboration avec les parents, il créera un instrument pour mesurer les progrès des élèves dans les matières principales tout en mettant en œuvre le Crédit d'impôt pour l'équité en matière d'éducation.

Nous faisons également de l'égalité des chances l'objectif du système d'éducation postsecondaire. Les élèves qui sont compétents méritent d'avoir la possibilité de se préparer à un avenir brillant, quelle que soit leur situation financière.

C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement a lancé le Fonds fiduciaire d'initiative pour les étudiantes et étudiants de l'Ontario qui aidera des milliers de jeunes à avoir accès aux études postsecondaires. Quelque 185 000 élèves qui possèdent les compétences scolaires, mais manquent de ressources financières, bénéficieront de ce fonds que votre gouvernement a l'intention d'augmenter pour permettre, au cours des 10 prochaines années, à 400 000 élèves de réaliser leur potentiel.

Étant donné que certains élèves ont besoin d'un soutien supplémentaire dans leurs études, votre gouvernement améliorera le Programme d'aide à l'apprentissage. Sous la direction de Bette Stephenson, ce programme aide les élèves ayant des difficultés d'apprentissage à se prévaloir de possibilités d'apprentissage au niveau postsecondaire. Votre gouvernement étendra ce programme aux 18 universités publiques et aux 24 collèges communautaires de l'Ontario.

Les élèves et leurs parents veulent être sûrs qu'ils pourront réaliser leur rêve et qu'il sera possible de faire des études postsecondaires en Ontario. C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement a fait le plus important investissement en immobilisations des 30 dernières années dans les collèges et les universités.

Fidèle à son engagement de donner à chaque étudiante et étudiant admissible et qui y est disposé une place dans le système d'éducation postsecondaire, le gouvernement et ses partenaires ont affecté la somme supplémentaire de 1,8 milliard de dollars à la création de 73 000 nouvelles places pour les étudiants partout dans la province. Votre gouvernement renouvellera ses engagements et affectera d'autres ressources aux établissements postsecondaires pour tenir compte de la demande de places, qui est plus élevée que prévu.

L'Ontario a déjà réservé un financement supplémentaire de 293 millions de dollars aux investissements dans l'enseignement et les fournitures scolaires, et il travaillera de concert avec les collèges et les universités pour offrir davantage de places aux étudiants du palier postsecondaire de la province.

Un bon exemple d'innovation a été l'extension aux collèges des programmes d'études appliquées. En collaboration avec les prestataires du secteur de l'éducation, votre gouvernement étoffera ce programme et trouvera d'autres solutions qui tiennent compte des besoins des étudiants, ainsi que de ceux de l'industrie, améliorant ainsi la compétitivité de la province à l'échelle internationale.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens devraient pouvoir travailler et améliorer leurs compétences au sein de leur propre communauté. C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement estime qu'il faut offrir un accès dans toute la province à des programmes d'apprentissage et de formation de premier ordre.

Dans un esprit de collaboration, la ministre de la Formation et des Collèges et Universités invite le gouvernement fédéral à ratifier l'Entente sur le développement du marché du travail qui permettrait aux Ontariennes et Ontariens d'accéder à des fonds de près de 600 millions de dollars pour la formation professionnelle et l'apprentissage.

ESSOR ÉCONOMIQUE ET INNOVATION

Des générations successives d'Ontariennes et Ontariens travailleurs et innovateurs ont bâti une infrastructure de fabrication et d'exportation aux aspects multiples et à la technologie de pointe, ce qui est une source de richesse incroyable.

Votre gouvernement n'a pas perdu de vue que c'est grâce aux efforts acharnés et à la détermination de toute la population que l'Ontario a pu reprendre sa place de moteur de la prospérité au Canada.

Il s'est créé 882 700 nouveaux emplois en Ontario depuis 1995, dont 59 400 au cours des six derniers mois.

Il y a maintenant 600 000 personnes qui reçoivent un chèque de paie au lieu d'un chèque de l'aide sociale.

Davantage de jeunes couples découvrent la fierté et la liberté d'être propriétaires de leur domicile.

La création d'emplois, la confiance des consommateurs et des entreprises, les dépenses de consommation et le marché du logement sont vigoureux et indicateurs de croissance – preuve que l'Ontario est sur la bonne voie.

Mais la tâche qui consiste à maintenir la compétitivité n'est pas terminée. Et elle ne le sera jamais.

Votre gouvernement continuera de mettre l'accent sur l'amélioration de la capacité concurrentielle de l'Ontario par le biais des réductions d'impôt.

Votre gouvernement se reportera à l'expérience des sept dernières années, réussites et défis compris, et il demandera aux femmes et aux hommes entrepreneurs de la province de lui communiquer leurs idées sur les moyens d'accroître la compétitivité et la productivité – les clés qui permettront à l'Ontario de rester un chef de file au Canada et une force concurrentielle dans le monde entier.

La province n'était pas à l'abri des répercussions économiques et financières des attentats du 11 septembre contre son voisin le plus proche et son principal partenaire commercial.

Le repli économique qui a suivi se fait encore sentir aujourd'hui et nuit aux ressources financières de la province.

Une gestion budgétaire judicieuse et des décisions difficiles s'imposent pour remédier à cette situation. Mais votre gouvernement est prêt à prendre ces décisions et toutes les mesures nécessaires pour permettre à l'Ontario de conserver son dynamisme et de poursuivre sa croissance.

Plus d'un million d'emplois, en Ontario, dépendent du commerce avec le plus important partenaire commercial de la province, c'est-à-dire les États-Unis. Rien qu'en 2001, l'Ontario a exporté vers ce pays des biens et des services dont la valeur dépassait 200 milliards de dollars. Votre gouvernement est d'avis que le seul moyen d'assurer la prospérité continue de l'Ontario est de maintenir la libre circulation des biens, des services et des personnes à la frontière.

Le nouveau ministère de la Sûreté et de la Sécurité publique aidera à maintenir la sécurité physique et économique de l'Ontario. Il exercera des fonctions de direction centrale qui engloberont tous les ministères et organismes provinciaux.

Depuis le 11 septembre, votre gouvernement a pris des mesures, comme l'adoption d'une nouvelle loi stricte pour protéger les documents d'état civil, notamment les extraits de naissance. Il continuera à assurer la sécurité, mais il ne peut pas agir seul. C'est pourquoi il veut travailler avec Ottawa à la création d'un périmètre de sécurité nord-américain pour assurer la fluidité et la sécurité du commerce et des déplacements transfrontaliers.

Votre gouvernement reconnaît qu'il est important de travailler avec le gouvernement fédéral à l'enrichissement des institutions culturelles et artistiques. Votre ministre de la Culture jouera un rôle actif dans cette importante initiative.

Pour permettre à toutes les régions de la province de tirer profit de l'essor de l'Ontario et d'être concurrentielles sur les marchés mondiaux, il faut un flux constant de politiques et d'idées novatrices. Le nouveau ministère de l'Entreprise, des Débouchés et de l'Innovation témoigne clairement de la détermination de votre gouvernement à compter sur l'innovation pour renforcer la compétitivité.

À l'échelle planétaire, l'Ontario est un chef de file dans le secteur de la biotechnologie. En témoigne la tenue, en juin prochain à Toronto, du congrès international Bio2002, le plus important congrès de biotechnologie au monde.

Votre gouvernement continuera de promouvoir la recherche et l'innovation par le biais de son Fonds d'encouragement à la recherche-développement. Depuis 1997, dans le cadre de ce fonds, le secteur public a investi plus de 377 millions de dollars, qui ont été appuyés par près d'un milliard de dollars du secteur privé, dans 88 projets entrepris par des universités, des collèges, des hôpitaux et des établissements de recherche de toute la province.

Votre gouvernement accroîtra également son investissement dans l'économie du savoir en appuyant de manière créative les universités et les établissements de recherche. Ainsi, il a conclu une entente de partenariat pour favoriser la création d'un quartier spécialisé dans les découvertes médicales et les sciences connexes au centre-ville de Toronto qui permettra à la recherche médicale d'avancer. Il s'est également engagé à créer un parc de recherche et de technologie, à l'Université de Waterloo, qui pourrait employer jusqu'à 6 000 personnes.

L'ACCÈS AUX SOINS DE SANTÉ AUJOURD'HUI ET DEMAIN

L'Ontario est un leader mondial dans le domaine de la recherche sur le cancer, mais votre gouvernement estime qu'il peut faire davantage pour vaincre cette maladie dévastatrice qui, sous ses multiples formes, afflige tant de familles.

Aujourd'hui, plus de 50 pour 100 des adultes et 75 pour 100 des enfants atteints de cancer survivent à la maladie. Votre gouvernement s'attachera à éliminer ce fléau et se concentrera plus particulièrement sur les deux cancers les plus meurtriers, les cancers du sein et de la prostate.

D'éminents scientifiques et spécialistes de la médecine affirment qu'il sera possible de trouver, au cours de la prochaine décennie, un traitement permettant de guérir ces deux cancers.

L'Ontario a le savoir-faire, la volonté et des équipes ayant le sens de l'innovation. Et il est décidé à consacrer encore plus de ressources à la découverte de ce traitement.

Le Fonds ontarien d'encouragement à la recherche-développement dirigera une équipe de spécialistes à cette fin. De plus, le gouvernement étendra immédiatement la portée du Réseau ontarien de recherche sur le cancer, de sorte que la recherche sur toutes les formes de cancer puisse bénéficier d'un financement. Au cours des trois prochaines années, il augmentera le nombre d'essais cliniques visant à tester de nouveaux traitements prometteurs, de sorte que deux fois plus de patients puissent tirer parti de cette recherche.

Nous sommes tous fiers de notre système de soins de santé universel, un système que le monde entier nous envie depuis son instauration il y a près de 40 ans. Cependant, ce système est aujourd'hui en danger sous la pression d'une population croissante et vieillissante et des coûts que représentent les technologies modernes et les nouveaux traitements.

Les rapports Kirby et Mazankowski et le rapport de la Commission Romanow, qui sera publié bientôt, débattent tous de l'avenir des soins de santé. Votre gouvernement, pour sa part, a entrepris ses propres consultations avec les patients et leurs familles et avec les fournisseurs de soins de santé, un peu partout en Ontario.

Partout, les Ontariennes et Ontariens disent la même chose.

Ils veulent un système qui encourage le bien-être et un mode de vie sain.

Ils veulent recevoir un diagnostic exact, sans délai.

Ils veulent recevoir des traitements sans avoir à attendre.

Ils veulent pouvoir trouver près de chez eux un médecin de famille ainsi que des infirmières ou infirmiers.

Le gouvernement vous a entendus. Il agit pour répondre à vos préoccupations. Il est déterminé à améliorer l'accès aux soins de santé, de sorte que les Ontariennes et Ontariens puissent recevoir en temps et lieu le traitement dont ils ont besoin.

L'Ontario entre dans une ère nouvelle, et l'amélioration de notre système de santé ne fait que commencer.

Depuis 1995, 31 nouveaux systèmes d'imagerie par résonance magnétique ont été mis en service, la province disposant aujourd'hui d'un total de 43 scanners. Le gouvernement continuera d'augmenter le nombre de scanners IRM et commencera immédiatement à accroître de 90 pour 100 le nombre d'heures de service financées par l'Assurance-santé.

Votre gouvernement cherchera des façons novatrices de fournir d'autres actes et services de diagnostic et de traitement, et d'en augmenter le nombre, de sorte que la population ontarienne y ait plus facilement accès.

Où qu'ils vivent, les Ontariennes et Ontariens doivent avoir accès à des services proches de chez eux. Aujourd'hui, dans notre province, beaucoup de gens n'ont pas de médecin et de nombreuses collectivités sont mal desservies. Le besoin à cet égard est pressant.

L'Ontario a commencé à faire face au problème en contribuant aux droits de scolarité des futurs médecins qui choisiront de s'établir dans des zones insuffisamment desservies.

Mais il reste encore beaucoup à faire.

Le gouvernement ouvrira une nouvelle école de médecine dans le Nord. Deux campus complets – l'un à Sudbury, l'autre à Thunder Bay – assureront la formation d'un plus grand nombre de médecins, qui seront ensuite encouragés à exercer dans les régions du Nord.

Par ailleurs, le gouvernement travaillera en collaboration avec le milieu des soins de santé de l'Ontario pour encourager les médecins formés à l'étranger à s'établir dans les régions mal desservies et pour accroître le taux d'accréditation parmi ces praticiens qualifiés.

Les réseaux de santé familiale de l'Ontario, qui sont destinés à accroître l'accès aux services de santé, constituent un autre objectif important du plan gouvernemental. Dans la province, 14 réseaux pilotes sont déjà en place et le gouvernement fera en sorte que 80 pour 100 des médecins admissibles exercent au sein de réseaux.

Les infirmières et infirmiers praticiens, dont de nombreux Ontariens apprécient le travail, représentent une autre composante importante des réseaux de santé familiale.

C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement s'emploiera à éliminer les obstacles auxquels font face les infirmières et infirmiers praticiens. Le nombre de ces praticiens sera plus que doublé, et le gouvernement étendra leur champ d'action aux établissements de soins de longue durée, aux centres de santé communautaire et aux salles d'urgence. On les encouragera à travailler dans des collectivités qui sont restées longtemps sans médecin.

Hier, le ministre de la Santé et des Soins de longue durée a annoncé un investissement de 3 millions de dollars visant à financer l'implantation d'infirmières et infirmiers praticiens dans 12 collectivités jusque-là non desservies par un médecin.

Si l'argent seul était la solution aux problèmes, ceux-ci seraient aujourd'hui résolus. Le gouvernement sait que l'argent seul ne suffit pas. Mais le statu quo n'est pas une solution non plus.

Votre gouvernement reconnaît la contribution du secteur privé à notre système de soins de santé public – sous la forme de dons ou de financement au bénéfice de nos hôpitaux et de la recherche ou encore sous la forme des nombreux services qu'il offre à la population. Le gouvernement s'engage à trouver de nouveaux moyens d'encourager l'innovation en partenariat avec le secteur privé, tout en veillant à préserver l'universalité du système de santé.

L'Ontario tient à offrir un financement pluriannuel à nos hôpitaux. Ce modèle de financement permettra aux hôpitaux de mieux planifier les besoins de leurs collectivités et des patients. Toutefois, pour s'engager dans cette voie, l'Ontario a besoin de la collaboration du gouvernement fédéral en ce domaine.

Votre gouvernement est d'avis qu'une intervention responsable en matière de soins de santé doit aujourd'hui passer par un débat honnête, le but étant de préserver l'universalité de notre système de santé à palier unique, qui fait le prestige de notre province et de notre pays.

Pour améliorer le système, il faudra que toutes les administrations publiques, mais aussi tous les membres de la société – ceux qui reçoivent les services et ceux qui les fournissent – aient la force et le courage de reconnaître les failles et les lacunes du système ainsi que la volonté de trouver des solutions.

Notre stratégie en matière de soins de santé sera guidée par un objectif clair : améliorer l'accès aux services de santé de manière durable pour tous les résidents de la province, où qu'ils vivent.

Votre nouveau gouvernement est prêt à résoudre les problèmes et à jouer, à cet égard, un rôle de premier plan. La tâche ne sera pas aisée. Il faudra beaucoup de détermination. Il faudra le courage d'écouter et la volonté de prendre les décisions qui s'imposent.

PLANIFIER POUR RÉPONDRE AUX BESOINS DIFFÉRENTS DE TOUTES LES RÉGIONS

La diversité qui caractérise l'Ontario, sa géographie, sa population et ses quartiers fait de notre province un lieu privilégié où il fait bon vivre, travailler et élever une famille. Fort d'une mosaïque de 165 communautés culturelles dynamiques, l'Ontario s'enorgueillit de cet ensemble unique de voix, de croyances et d'origines qui enrichissent notre vie à tous, tant sur le plan culturel qu'économique.

Reconnaissant les bienfaits de notre diversité, le gouvernement sera l'hôte d'une conférence internationale qui mettra en valeur les succès de l'Ontario et examinera comment notre population, forte de sa diversité et de ses talents, peut aider à accroître notre compétitivité sur la scène mondiale.

Votre gouvernement célébrera la diversité ethnique et régionale de notre province et exploitera les atouts de cette diversité au bénéfice de toute la population ontarienne.

En même temps, le gouvernement reconnaît que des régions différentes font face à des défis différents. C'est pourquoi, aujourd'hui, pour la première fois, l'Ontario a deux ministres associés chargés de répondre aux besoins particuliers des régions urbaines et rurales. Le gouvernement a aussi un plan visant à fortifier la vitalité de toutes les collectivités de l'Ontario.

La stratégie de croissance intelligente de l'Ontario s'attachera à promouvoir et à gérer la croissance dans le souci de soutenir le regain économique, de renforcer les collectivités et de promouvoir un environnement sain. Il s'agit d'un plan exhaustif, mais souple, qui vise à faire face aux pressions de la population croissante de l'Ontario et à répondre à la nécessité de renouveler les moyens de transport en commun et de construire de nouvelles routes pour faciliter le déplacement des biens et des personnes. Ce sont les Comités des initiatives de croissance intelligente qui sont chargés de trouver des moyens de promouvoir et de gérer la croissance en fonction des besoins de chaque région. Ces comités réunissent une diversité d'intervenants – les différents paliers de gouvernement, le milieu des affaires, des groupes communautaires et des organismes environnementaux – tous travaillant à offrir une qualité de vie excellente à toute la population ontarienne, pour aujourd'hui et pour demain.

Autre volet du plan, la modernisation du système de transports en commun. Un investissement de 9 milliards de dollars donnera à l'Ontario un système de transports en commun qui remplira efficacement sa mission tout en protégeant l'environnement. Le gouvernement est convaincu qu'il peut travailler avec ses partenaires fédéral et municipaux pour financer le Programme ontarien de renouvellement des véhicules de transport en commun.

Votre gouvernement examinera les innovations en matière de transport en commun, comme la carte multi-transport, qui améliorera le service à la clientèle en facilitant le déplacement des passagers au sein du réseau de transport complexe d'une région.

Planifier l'avenir, c'est créer un réseau d'autoroutes moderne, sûr et efficace pour relier les villes de la province, réduire les embouteillages et favoriser la prospérité de toutes les régions. Votre gouvernement poursuivra ses investissements dans l'expansion et l'entretien du réseau routier.

Planifier l'avenir, c'est aussi permettre aux petites collectivités et aux régions éloignées de la province de profiter de la croissance économique dont bénéficient les centres urbains. Voilà pourquoi le gouvernement déposera des mesures législatives visant à créer des zones assorties d'incitatifs fiscaux. Le but est d'encourager les grandes et petites entreprises à investir, à s'établir ou à étendre leurs activités dans les collectivités rurales et celles du Nord, ce qui favorisera la croissance économique et encouragera les jeunes à s'y installer et à y travailler, et à apporter ainsi leur contribution à la région où ils ont grandi.

La planification à l'échelon local exige aussi un financement approprié. Les municipalités doivent avoir les moyens nécessaires pour entreprendre d'importants projets d'infrastructure, comme la construction de nouvelles installations d'épuration des eaux, d'égouts et de routes. Le gouvernement déposera des mesures législatives qui permettront aux municipalités d'offrir aux investisseurs des obligations de financement de projets exemptées d'impôt, ce qui favorisera la construction d'infrastructures et donnera aux municipalités plus de contrôle au niveau local.

Planifier l'avenir, c'est aussi protéger nos traditions. L'agriculture n'est pas seulement une entreprise, c'est aussi un mode de vie. Or, ce mode de vie est aujourd'hui menacé.

Votre premier ministre a déjà pris des mesures à cet égard en rencontrant des membres de la collectivité agricole. Le 6 juin prochain, lors d'une table ronde qui se tiendra à Guelph, il rencontrera à nouveau des représentants agricoles pour cerner leurs préoccupations majeures et déterminer les priorités à cibler au cours des cinq prochaines années pour préserver la vitalité du secteur.

Les récoltes et l'approvisionnement alimentaire de l'Ontario ne doivent pas être à la merci des conflits de travail. Tout en respectant les droits individuels et constitutionnels, votre gouvernement s'attachera, en ces temps difficiles, à protéger les exploitants et leurs moyens de subsistance.

Comme les agriculteurs de l'Ontario, votre gouvernement comprend que la protection de l'environnement est d'une importance cruciale pour l'avenir de l'exploitation agricole familiale. Il est déterminé à faire adopter le projet de loi sur la gestion des éléments nutritifs, qui vise à protéger l'environnement en établissant des normes précises et homogènes pour la gestion des substances nutritives, et en imposant ces normes aux exploitations.

RENFORCER LES COLLECTIVITÉS PAR LE BIAIS DE MESURES ENVIRONNEMENTALES

Planifier l'avenir, c'est aussi protéger notre eau et notre air.

Conscient de cet impératif, votre gouvernement mettra en œuvre sa stratégie visant à assurer un approvisionnement en eau propre aux générations futures.

Le gouvernement sait que nous devons tous travailler plus fort pour protéger et préserver notre environnement. Nous devons considérer notre environnement comme un patrimoine que nous léguerons à nos enfants et à nos petits-enfants. Ce patrimoine ne devrait pas être un poids pour eux.

Votre gouvernement s'engage à instaurer en Ontario une politique exemplaire pour l'assainissement de l'eau qui sera l'une des plus rigoureuses au monde. Le Fonds de protection du patrimoine des eaux de l'Ontario orientera dans cette perspective les actions du gouvernement, ses politiques, ses rapports et ses mesures de mise à exécution. Le Fonds utilisera ses ressources pour recueillir des subventions auprès du gouvernement fédéral, des administrations municipales et du secteur privé dans le but de reconstruire les infrastructures d'alimentation en eau.

Un Centre d'excellence en eau et assainissement, implanté à Walkerton, coordonnera la recherche et la formation de ceux qui travaillent dans ce domaine. Le centre mettra en relation les meilleurs spécialistes des milieux scientifiques et de la recherche.

Les 28 recommandations du premier rapport du juge O'Connor sur Walkerton sont actuellement mises en œuvre. Le gouvernement prendra d'autres mesures pour répondre aux directives énoncées dans le deuxième rapport du juge, qui sera publié à la fin du mois.

Le gouvernement estime aussi que nous devons étudier les possibilités de nouvelles sources d'énergie adaptées au XXI^e siècle. Il attend le rapport du Comité spécial des sources de carburants de remplacement, qui doit paraître à la fin du mois et qui le guidera dans sa collaboration avec les industries environnementales de l'Ontario pour assainir notre air et promouvoir des sources d'énergie verte, comme le vent ou l'hydrogène.

PROTÉGER LES CONSOMMATEURS ET L'APPROVISIONNEMENT EN ÉLECTRICITÉ DE L'ONTARIO

À l'instar de notre système de soins de santé, nos ressources énergétiques représentent un atout et une marque de prestige pour l'Ontario. L'énergie, on le sait, contribue depuis longtemps à la prospérité de l'industrie ontarienne et à la richesse de notre province.

Il faut moderniser et agrandir notre infrastructure électrique pour qu'elle puisse répondre aux besoins de notre province aujourd'hui en pleine expansion et en pleine mutation. Cependant, le gouvernement est conscient des événements majeurs qui sont récemment survenus dans le secteur de l'électricité; il se doit de veiller à ce que les Ontariennes et Ontariens puissent compter, aujourd'hui et à l'avenir, sur un approvisionnement en électricité sûr, accessible et abordable.

Votre premier ministre a clairement indiqué que les plans de restructuration du secteur de l'électricité visent quatre objectifs principaux :

Premièrement, le gouvernement assurera un approvisionnement en énergie efficient à des prix qui seront compétitifs pour la population de l'Ontario et sur le marché international.

Deuxièmement, il s'emploiera à trouver le capital nécessaire pour reconstruire et moderniser le réseau de transport et de distribution d'électricité de la province.

Troisièmement, il imposera la discipline du marché à Hydro One – la société de transport d'électricité de la province – et préviendra toute récurrence éventuelle d'endettements monstrueux, comme la dette actuelle de 38 milliards de dollars qu'il s'applique à liquider.

Quatrièmement, il atteindra ces objectifs tout en veillant à la protection des consommateurs.

Votre gouvernement est d'avis que les Ontariennes et Ontariens devraient avoir leur mot à dire sur l'orientation future d'une des plus importantes ressources de l'Ontario. Le gouvernement a le courage d'écouter le public, la volonté de le consulter et la capacité de prendre les mesures nécessaires dans l'intérêt de la population et de toutes les régions de notre grande province.

VEILLER À LA SÉCURITÉ DES COLLECTIVITÉS

Votre gouvernement prendra aussi des mesures pour protéger les collectivités, les familles et les personnes.

Il s'engage à protéger les enfants contre la prostitution. Et les personnes qui exploitent ainsi les jeunes et tirent profit de telles activités seront tenues responsables de leurs actions.

Par ailleurs, chaque année, des milliers d'enfants sont témoins ou victimes d'actes de violence au sein de leur famille. Ce sont des enfants à risque, qui poursuivent souvent eux-mêmes ce cycle de violence dans leur vie d'adultes. Votre gouvernement continuera d'aider les enfants aux prises avec des situations familiales violentes.

Votre gouvernement a adopté un objectif de tolérance zéro en ce qui concerne la violence faite aux femmes. Encouragé par les progrès déjà réalisés, le gouvernement continuera d'établir des liens avec les maisons d'hébergement, les éducateurs, les programmes d'intervention juridique et les services d'aide à l'enfance pour examiner les façons de soutenir financièrement les intervenants de première ligne. La violence au foyer déchire les familles, touche les plus vulnérables et détruit des collectivités. Le gouvernement continuera de lutter contre ces actes criminels.

Les bandes de motards représentent une autre menace pour nos collectivités. Votre gouvernement continuera de soutenir la brigade de la Police provinciale de l'Ontario chargée de la lutte contre ce danger.

Votre gouvernement établira un groupe de travail ayant pour tâche d'aider à réformer les services correctionnels de l'Ontario en collaboration avec les intervenants, le personnel de terrain et les cadres. Il utilisera aussi les technologies les plus avancées dans son programme de surveillance électronique pour superviser et contrôler de plus près les contrevenants ciblés, dans le but d'accroître la sécurité de nos collectivités.

Le gouvernement s'assurera, enfin, que les policiers, les pompiers et le personnel paramédical ont les moyens et la formation nécessaires pour mener à bien leur tâche.

Toutes ces mesures aideront nos collectivités à vivre plus en sécurité, l'esprit tranquille.

CONCLUSION

Ce printemps, c'est avec un regain d'optimisme que la population de l'Ontario se tourne vers l'avenir. Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont bien des occasions de se réjouir.

Notre province est forte parce que sa population est forte.

Nous voyons cette force chez nos enseignantes et enseignants, dont la patience, le professionnalisme et la sagesse ne peuvent qu'inspirer nos enfants.

Nous voyons cette force encore dans la compassion et le dévouement de nos infirmières, de nos infirmiers et de nos médecins.

Nous la voyons chez nos policiers, nos pompiers et les membres de nos forces militaires qui nous protègent.

Cette force, enfin, nous la voyons chez les chefs d'entreprise, les travailleurs d'usine, les fonctionnaires, les bénévoles et un grand nombre d'autres personnes dont le labeur dynamise notre grande province.

Nous sommes riches de la diversité de nos cultures, nous avons de nombreuses ressources, nous vivons dans la paix et la sécurité.

Nous savons qu'en travaillant ensemble, nous aiderons nos collectivités, nos communautés culturelles et la population toute entière à prospérer.

Le gouvernement sait qu'avec une diligence assidue, une gestion financière rigoureuse et des mesures fiscales compétitives, l'Ontario bénéficiera de nouveaux emplois, d'une prospérité accrue et de nouveaux débouchés.

Votre gouvernement sait que la confiance de notre population est un atout qu'il faut gagner chaque jour.

Le gouvernement fera tout son possible pour gagner cette confiance.

Que Dieu bénisse le Canada. Que Dieu bénisse l'Ontario. Dieu protège la Reine.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 2002FIFTEENTH DAY*PRAYERS*1:30 P.M.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

Earlier today, the Member for Beaches-East York, Mr. Prue, provided me with written notice of a point of privilege, as required by Standing Order 21(c). I would like to thank the Member for giving me sufficient time to review this matter.

I wish to advise that I will be deciding on this matter without further hearing directly from the Member at this time, as Standing Order 21(d) permits me to do.

The Member's point of privilege relates to difficulties he has encountered with the National Advertising Standards Council, specifically its refusal to deal with a complaint launched by the Member. While the Member alleges that the refusal by the National Advertising Standards Council somehow curtails the freedom of speech of current and future Members of the House, he fails to explain how this is so. In addition, the Member will know that privilege attaches only to a Member's parliamentary duties, and not to subsidiary duties away from Parliament. I cannot find in the Member's letter any reference to the manner in which the complaint and the subsequent refusal to pursue it are related to the Member's parliamentary duties. In the absence of such crucial information, I have no alternative but to find that a prima facie case of privilege has not been established.

1:30 P.M.

13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

Yesterday, the Member for Beaches–East York gave me notice of his intention to raise a point of privilege relating to his dealings with the National Advertising Standards Council. The Member subsequently provided me with additional material, which I have now reviewed.

I want to advise the Member that I stand by my remarks yesterday in which I emphasized that Members' peripheral, subsidiary duties as a people's representative, as opposed to their primary duties as a legislator in this Chamber or a Committee, cannot normally give successful rise to a valid point of privilege.

The situation of which the Member complains involves a civil federal regulatory body and the rules it applies in adjudicating public complaints about advertising. In no way does this agency's treatment of the Member equate to a violation of his privileges, and specifically his freedom of speech, as the Member contends. His freedom of speech is not absolute or unrestrained. It applies to his work as a legislator in the conduct of parliamentary business, but not beyond that to advocacy or representative roles unrelated to the business of the House.

I therefore reiterate my finding of yesterday that a prima facie case of privilege has not been made out by the Member for Beaches–East York.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House that, pursuant to Standing Order 69(b), the House Leader of the Official Opposition, the Member for Windsor–St. Clair, has notified the Clerk of his intention to file a reasoned amendment to the motion for Second Reading of Bill 58, An Act to amend certain statutes in relation to the energy sector.

The Order for Second Reading of Bill 58 may therefore not be called today.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

ORDRE DU JOUR

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Brown) delivered the following ruling:-

Earlier today, the Member for Niagara Centre (Mr. Kormos) rose on a point of order respecting the orderliness of Bill 58, An Act to amend certain statutes in relation to the energy sector. His submissions on this point referred to the sub judice rule making reference to a current notice of appeal before the courts respecting Hydro One. He also argued that the bill could be ruled out of order due to its omnibus nature. The Government House Leader (Mr. Stockwell) also made submissions on these points.

Let me start with that which was put last, namely the omnibus argument. As Members will know, omnibus bills have been the subject of procedural scrutiny in many Parliamentary jurisdictions as governments have increasingly used them as vehicles for submitting related proposals for consideration of the House.

However, to date, I know of no Speaker in any jurisdiction who has, on his or her own initiative, ruled a bill out of order because of its omnibus nature. While it is possible to envision a circumstance where a Speaker might find no alternative but to break with that practice, it is my opinion that this would occur only if that Speaker were faced with a piece of legislation that has gone beyond what has to date been procedurally acceptable.

Given previous examples of omnibus bills considered by this House and the fact that upon careful consideration of the bill I cannot find that its parts are so disparate as to have no tangible connection I find I am unable to rule Bill 58 out of order on the basis of its omnibus nature.

The Member for Niagara Centre also made submissions respecting the applicability of Standing Order 23(g), the Assembly's sub judice rule.

The member for Niagara Centre noted that a former Speaker of this House indicated in a 1966 ruling that the sub judice rule can apply to civil proceedings. The Government House Leader stated otherwise. Let me clarify that point. Sub judice according to Beauschesne has been applied consistently in criminal cases but there is no settled practice in relation to civil cases. This does not mean it can never be applied in a civil case, but Beauschesne goes on to say that the House would never allow “the sub judice convention to stand in the way of its consideration of a matter vital to the public interest or to the effective operation of the House”.

On the point of the applicability of the rule to a bill let me refer to the following ruling of Speaker Hipel, which can be found at page 22 of our Journals for January 29, 1937:

“Instances of the passing of Bills affecting particular actions or other proceedings before the courts are not uncommon in the history of this Legislature....

“In my opinion, it is clear that ... Erskine May ... goes no further than to state that during the course of a debate Members should not refer to matters awaiting the adjudication of a court of law, such matters being sub judice. It is not intended to interfere with the right of legislative bodies to alter existing laws, even though such alteration may affect a matter before the courts.

“I hold that it would be a stultification of the powers of this Assembly to rule that an Act may not be introduced to remedy a condition in an Act and to make clear the will of the Assembly even though the Act to be remedied is under consideration by a Court of Law.

“Accordingly, it is my ruling that an Act may be introduced and considered by the Assembly, notwithstanding that such Act may interfere with actions pending before the courts.”

Let me add that ever since our sub judice rule was created in 1970 -- and then amended to its current form in 1978 -- its invocation has become infrequent. I appreciate that the Member for Niagara Centre may find this situation unfortunate, but he and other Members should remember that the less frequently the rule is invoked, the greater the vindication of the single most important parliamentary privilege that members of this House enjoy, namely their right to freedom of speech in this House.

I find that Bill 58 is in order.

In closing, I thank the Member for Niagara Centre for his thoughtful submissions.

After some time, pursuant to Standing Order 9(a), the motion for the adjournment of the debate was deemed to have been made and carried.

PÉTITIONS

ORDERS OF THE DAY

On a point of order being raised, the Acting Speaker (Mr. Johnson) recessed the House for 15 minutes.

Upon his return, the Acting Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

I have carefully reviewed the Standing Orders respecting time allocation. The only restriction placed upon such motions respecting how much time can be allocated to each stage is that which stipulates that a time allocation motion cannot be moved until there have been at least 3 Sessional days of second reading debate. This requirement has been met with respect to Bill 135. Except with respect to the rules around notice and debate of such a motion, there are no other restrictions; Standing Order 46 is very clear.

We have had several examples in this House of time allocation motions which allocate no committee time and several examples which allocate no time for debate at Third Reading. In his ruling of July 21, 1992, Speaker Warner stated that the Standing Orders do not "require that the motion provide for a minimum period of debate at third reading of a bill". Similarly, there is no Standing Order requirement that the motion provide for committee consideration.

Let me be clear, each of the 3 required stages of legislative consideration will be decided by this House. Additionally, the required 3 days of Second Reading debate have occurred. All of the terms of the Standing Orders have been satisfied.

I find that Government Notices of Motion 8 and 9 do comply with Standing Order 46 and are therefore in order.

ORDRE DU JOUR

Mr. Baird moved,

M. Baird propose,

That pursuant to Standing Order 46 and notwithstanding any other Standing Order or Special Order of the House relating to Bill 135, An Act to recognize Ontario's recreational hunting and fishing heritage and to establish the Fish and Wildlife Heritage Commission, when Bill 135 is next called as a government order, the Speaker shall put every question necessary to dispose of the second reading stage of the bill, without further debate or amendment, and

That, the vote on second reading may, pursuant to Standing Order 28(h), be deferred until the next Sessional day during the Routine Proceeding "Deferred Votes"; and

That on the same day that the bill receives second reading, it may be called for third reading and;

When the order for third reading is called, the Speaker shall put every question necessary to dispose of this stage of the bill without further debate or amendment; and

That, the vote on third reading may, pursuant to Standing Order 28(h), be deferred until the next Sessional day during the Routine Proceeding "Deferred Votes"; and

That, in the case of any division relating to any proceedings on the bill, the division bell shall be limited to five minutes.

After some time, Mr. Bisson moved,

Après quelque temps, M. Bisson propose,

That the motion be amended by striking out the third and fourth paragraphs of the motion as it appears on the Orders and Notices Paper, and substituting the following:

"At such time, the bill be ordered referred to the Committee of the Whole House, and that 1 hour be allotted to this stage, at the expiry of which the Chair of the Committee of the Whole House shall interrupt the proceedings and shall, without further debate or amendment, put every question necessary to dispose of all remaining sections of the bill and any amendments thereto and report the bill to the House;

"That, upon receiving the report of the Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall put the question for adoption of the report forthwith, which question shall be decided without debate or amendment and at such time the bill shall be ordered for Third Reading;

"That the order for Third Reading may immediately be called and that sixty minutes shall be allotted to the Third Reading stage of the bill, to be divided equally among all recognized parties, and at the end of that time the Speaker shall interrupt the proceedings and shall put every question necessary to dispose of this stage of the bill without further debate or amendment; and"

PRIÈRES
13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House that I have today laid upon the Table the 2001 Annual Report of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (Sessional Paper No. 20).

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House that the Clerk has received a favourable report from the Commissioners of Estate Bills with respect to Bill Pr5, An Act respecting Groves Memorial Community Hospital.

Accordingly, pursuant to Standing Order 86(e), the Bill and the report stand referred to the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the Chief Government Whip raised a point of order concerning Bill 118, An Act to amend the Ontario Disability Support Program Act, 1997 to require annual cost-of-living adjustments to income support payments, standing in the name of the Member for Sault Ste. Marie, Mr. Martin.

The Chief Government Whip contended that Bill 118 contravenes Standing Order 56 because it would require the expenditure of public funds.

I have carefully reviewed the Chief Government Whip's comments, and both Bill 118 and the Ontario Disability Support Program Act, 1997, which Bill 118 seeks to amend.

At first glance, Bill 118 would appear to require money to be spent by indexing support payments to the cost of living. However, the Bill must be read in the wider context of the parent Act it amends.

The Bill if passed would permit, but not compel, the Lieutenant Governor in Council -- the Cabinet -- to make a regulation which, if made, would constitute a charge on the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The operative word in Section 55 of the parent Act, though, is "may". Bill 118 would add 1 more class of regulation, in addition to 50 others already enumerated in the Section, which the Lieutenant Governor in Council "may" make. The effective part of the Act is entirely permissive. If the permitted regulation is never made, there is no impact on the Consolidated Revenue Fund. On the other hand, if the permitted regulation is made then the ensuing expenditure will have been approved by the Executive Council, consistent with Standing Order 56 and the related general conventions around public financial administration.

I therefore do not concur with the Chief Government Whip that Bill 118 contravenes Standing Order 56 by imposing a charge on the treasury, and I find Bill 118 to be in order.

- Recognize that one of the cornerstones of care of our frail and elderly is the provision of appropriate long-term care;
- Recognize that there are over 60,000 Ontarians living in long-term care facilities, many of whom are frailer and sicker, requiring more care than ever before;
- Commit to supplying stable, long-term operational funding indexed to the cost of living that will ensure that the level of nursing and personal care services in Ontario's long-term care facilities ranks first among similar national and international jurisdictions with similar populations within the next five years.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

The following Bill was introduced, read the first time and referred to the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills:-

Bill Pr8, An Act to revive 1397399 Ontario Inc. Mr. O'Toole.

DÉPÔT DES PROJETS DE LOI

Le projet de loi suivant est présenté, lu une première fois et déposé au Comité permanent des règlements et des projets de loi d'intérêt privé:-

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Monday, June 10, the Member for Niagara Centre (Mr. Kormos) raised a point of privilege concerning statements made to the press by the Premier, and to the press and in this House by the Minister of Energy, relating to executive compensation at Hydro One Inc.

The Member contended that apparent contradictions between statements on this subject by the Premier and by the Minister, and other apparent contradictions between statements made by the Minister on different occasions, left room for one to draw the conclusion that the Minister had exhibited a lack of forthrightness when addressing the House. As a result, the Member invited me to find the Minister to be, prima facie, in contempt of the Legislature.

The Minister of Energy also briefly addressed the point of privilege, and insistently discounted the validity of the Member's contentions.

I have reviewed the material supplied by the Member for Niagara Centre, together with the relevant authorities and precedents and am prepared to deliver my ruling.

As the Member for Niagara Centre pointed out, Erskine May, at page 111 of the 22nd Edition under the title "Misconduct of Members or Officers" states "The Commons may treat the making of a deliberately misleading statement as a contempt." This citation however goes on further than the Member quoted to provide reference to one of the most famous such cases in parliamentary history, that of British Cabinet Minister John Dennis Profumo, who knowingly avowed one thing to the House of Commons which was later proved conclusively, and admitted by Profumo, to be untrue. An essential component of this case is that Profumo deliberately set out, in a prepared statement, to purposely mislead the House, and then did so.

The threshold for finding a prima facie case of contempt against a Member of the Legislature, on the basis of deliberately misleading the House, is therefore set quite high and is very uncommon. It must involve a proved finding of an overt attempt to intentionally mislead the Legislature. In the absence of an admission from the Member accused of the conduct, or of tangible confirmation of the conduct, independently proved, a Speaker must assume that no honourable Members would engage in such behaviour or that, at most, inconsistent statements were the result of inadvertence or honest mistake.

On this point, I would ask all Members to be extremely vigilant about the statements they make in this House. Despite the cut-and-thrust and understandable emotion of Question Periods and debates, those statements are held up to the highest possible scrutiny by all observers of this place and, as their statements represent the personal integrity of each Member, they must withstand inspection.

I now want to address the Member for Niagara Centre's citation of a recent ruling by Speaker Milliken in the House of Commons of Canada regarding statements made by then-Minister of National Defence, Art Eggleton.

I am deeply reluctant to accord applicability of that ruling to this case. Firstly, in that case Mr. Eggleton concurred that contradictory statements had been made and that clarification of the reasons for this, in a suitable forum, was required. Secondly, I see no precedential value to Speaker Milliken's ruling – within the ambit of parliamentary privilege – since, if the ruling is carefully read, it becomes apparent that a prima facie case of privilege was not explicitly found. Rather, Speaker Milliken seems to have stopped himself short in that regard and chose instead a novel approach, finding ultimately – without mentioning privilege – that the matter deserved consideration by a committee, and inviting a motion to give effect to this result.

I would generally be hesitant to appropriate for myself such an original, informal approach since the precedents, traditions and customs of this House around questions of privilege reveal a more definitive tendency. In my view, there are no shades of grey when it comes to parliamentary privilege and I would not like to promote such a view by delivering a ruling that failed to address, squarely and solely on its procedural merits, the question raised.

In the case at hand raised by the Member for Niagara Centre, I can only find that I am left with what amounts to a genuine disagreement between 2 honourable Members. As a result, I am unable to find that a prima facie case of contempt has been made out.

Finally, I want to thank the Member for Niagara Centre for the respect and careful choice of words he exhibited when he addressed this matter.

PRIÈRES

13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House that I have today laid upon the Table the Individual Members' Expenditures for the fiscal year 2001-2002 (Sessional Paper No. 30).

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the Member for Prince Edward-Hastings introduced Bill 122, An Act to amend the Ontario Disability Support Program Act, 1997 to empower the Integrity Commissioner to determine the level of income support.

I have reviewed the Bill and find that it is substantially similar to the MPP Compensation Reform Act, Bill 82, of the last Session. Mr. Parson's Bill duplicates the mechanism in Bill 82 to authorize the Integrity Commissioner to consider the level of, and recommend increases, in support payments. Such increases, if recommended, would be mandatory and automatic and would represent a direct allocation of public funds.

Given the great similarity of this Bill with Bill 82, the fact that Bill 82 was proposed by a Minister of the Crown and was accompanied by the Lieutenant Governor's Recommendation, I find that Bill 122 is in fact a money Bill and, as Standing Order 56 stipulates, may only be proposed by a Minister of the Crown.

I have therefore directed that Bill 122 be removed from the Orders and Notices Paper.

And the Bill was accordingly read the second time and Ordered for Third Reading.

En conséquence, ce projet de loi est lu une deuxième fois et sa troisième lecture mise à l'ordre du jour.

Following remarks by Mr. DeFaria, Mr. Bradley and Mr. Kormos in respect of Remembrance Day, the House observed a minute of silence.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the Member for Mississauga Centre introduced Bill 207, An Act to amend the Retail Sales Tax Act to provide an exemption from tax for amateur youth sports.

After the Bill received First Reading, the House Leader for the Official Opposition, the Member for Windsor-St. Clair, rose on a point of order to question the orderliness of the Bill with respect to Standing Order 56, which states "Any bill, resolution, motion or address, the passage of which would impose a tax or specifically direct the allocation of public funds, shall not be passed by the House unless recommended by a message from the Lieutenant Governor, and shall be proposed only by a minister of the Crown."

I undertook to review the Bill and have since done so.

The simple purpose of the Bill is to provide for an alleviation of the provincial sales tax that would normally be payable upon the purchase of a specified class of tangible personal property. This is conceptually similar to the tax credit proposed by the Member for Etobicoke North (then Etobicoke-Rexdale) in his Bill 24 of the Second Session of the Thirty-Sixth Parliament, which Speaker Stockwell ruled on in 1998.

In that instance, it was found that, although the proposal, if passed, would impose a burden on the Consolidated Revenue Fund, this would only occur indirectly. I find the same in the current case and therefore find Bill 207 to be in order.

ORDERS OF THE DAYORDRE DU JOUR

Opposition Day

Jour de l'opposition

Mr. Hampton moved,

M. Hampton propose,

Be it resolved:

That skyrocketing hydro bills have shown beyond any doubt that Ontario's hydro system must be operated as a non-profit public service;

That no portion of Hydro One or Ontario Power Generation should be sold or otherwise transferred into the control of profit-seeking corporations;

That hydro bills for all customers, including the price of the electricity itself, must be regulated on the basis of power at cost by an independent Public Utilities Commission;

That Ontario Power Generation should get back into the business of building generating capacity, starting with a major commitment to green power, conservation and efficiency but also including a significant amount of gas-fired power. Enough new generation should be built to allow all Ontario's coal-fired generating plants to be shut down by 2007. OPG's plans for new capacity should be subject to public review and a final decision by the independent Public Utilities Commission; and

That it is now urgent to terminate the disastrous experiment with a so-called competitive market in electricity.

13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House that I have today laid upon the Table the Report of the Integrity Commissioner, the Honourable Coulter A. Osborne, responding to the request of the Member for Simcoe North concerning Ms. Sandra Pupatello, Deputy Leader of the Official Opposition and Member for Windsor West (Sessional Paper No. 140).

I further beg to inform the House that I have laid upon the Table a request by the Member for Don Valley East to the Honourable Coulter A. Osborne, Integrity Commissioner, for an opinion pursuant to Section 30 of the Members' Integrity Act, 1994 on whether the Honourable John Baird, Minister of Energy, has contravened the Act or Ontario Parliamentary Convention (Sessional Paper 139).

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the Member for Windsor West introduced Bill 228, An Act respecting Canterbury College. At the time it was introduced, this Bill was unaccompanied by the usual documentation that lets the Speaker know what type of Bill it is. As a result, it was assumed to be a Private Members' Public Bill. As a public Bill, it is not in order.

Upon review, it is clear that the Bill is intended to be a Private Bill. However, as a Private Bill it was likewise unaccompanied by the required documentation and was brought before the House outside of the normal procedures established for a Private Bill application.

I therefore find the Bill not to be in order and have directed that it be removed from the Orders and Notices Paper.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the Member for Hamilton West introduced Bill 233, An Act to amend the Assessment Act to more fairly permit exemptions from assessment to benefit senior citizens and disabled persons.

After first reading, the Government House Leader (Mr. Stockwell) asked the Speaker to “review the bill for its orderliness with respect to the cost components to the financial base of the province of Ontario.”

I have had an opportunity to review the bill in light of our parliamentary precedents and authorities.

Marleau and Montpetit’s House of Commons Practice and Procedure states the following at page 898:

With respect to the raising of revenue, a private Member cannot introduce bills which impose taxes. The power to initiate taxation rests solely with the government and any legislation which seeks an increase in taxation must be preceded by a Ways and Means motion. Only a Minister can bring in a Ways and Means motion. However, private Members’ bills which reduce taxes, reduce the incidence of a tax, or impose or increase an exemption from taxation are acceptable.

Furthermore, citation 998(1) of the 6th edition of Beauchesne states that “[a] private Member may move that certain specified taxes be readjusted and that the scope of tax exemptions be enlarged.”

Our own modern precedents agree with the position taken by these authorities.

Therefore, I find that the Bill 233 does not offend Standing Order 56.

I thank the Government House Leader for raising his concern.

This being the first day of the Fourth Session of the Thirty-seventh Parliament convoked by Proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor for the dispatch of business, and the members of the House having assembled:-

His Honour the Lieutenant Governor entered the Legislative Chamber and, having taken his seat on the Throne, was pleased to open the Session by reading the following gracious speech:

Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislative Assembly, invited guests, fellow citizens.

In the past few weeks, Ontario has faced an outbreak of SARS. This global disease has created a significant health-care crisis.

While remaining vigilant, your government places its faith in the extraordinary courage and professionalism of Ontario's nurses, doctors, paramedics, medical researchers, lab technicians, scientists and other front-line heroes. To them, and to the families who stood by through long days and sleepless nights, all Ontarians owe a tremendous debt of gratitude. These men and women are turning the tide in Ontario's battle against SARS, and proving to the world that Ontario is a safe place to live in and visit.

To the families who have lost loved ones to this disease, we extend our deepest condolences.

To continue healing the damage caused by SARS, your government has pledged to help hospitals deal with SARS-related backlogs, compensate workers and protect and promote our economy. It will introduce legislation today that would, if passed, protect workers' jobs and strengthen powers to curb the spread of SARS and other infectious diseases. In the days and weeks ahead, your government will take further steps to address these challenges.

It is at times like these that Ontarians' values shine through.

Ontarians are competitive, but compassionate. We are successful, but believe that no one must be left behind. We are proud of our achievements, but believe in the promise of an even brighter future for our province.

It is the promise of Ontario that has encouraged people and families from all over the world to begin new lives here. It is the promise of Ontario that has inspired hard-working men and women to build successful businesses and strong communities. It is the promise of Ontario that inspires our citizens — young and old — to hope, dream and achieve.

It is this promise that motivates your government and that has brought the members of this Assembly here to serve Ontario's people and help build its future.

On behalf of our Sovereign, welcome to the Fourth Session of Ontario's 37th Parliament.

REFLECTION AND REMEMBRANCE

Since the Assembly last met, Ontario has lost three distinguished former members:

Frank Drea, whose straightforwardness with colleagues made him a popular MPP and whose efforts as an advocate for consumers, workers and the disabled made him a respected leader;

Ron McNeil, who represented the people of Elgin County for three decades and whose hard work on behalf of fellow farmers won him the appreciation of people of all political stripes; and

Russ Ramsay, whose gentlemanly service, kindness and strong principles endeared him to the citizens of Sault Ste. Marie and the people of Ontario and elevated him to the Order of Canada.

In January, four employees of the Ministry of Natural Resources died in a helicopter crash near Sault Ste. Marie while carrying out their duties. Your government mourns the loss of Michael Maguire, Walter Ceolin, Bruce Stubbs and Chantelle Walkey and will dedicate a new conservation reserve to their memory.

Ontario also recently lost one of its most beloved leaders. Gerald Emmett Cardinal Carter was a remarkable scholar who worked relentlessly in pursuit of social justice. For 53 years, he worked tirelessly to serve the people of Ontario, regardless of religious faith. His determination to tackle controversial issues head-on won him the respect of leaders and lay people alike, and his loss is felt not only by the Catholic community, but by all Ontarians.

We remember those killed during the war in Iraq. While your government deplores war's tragic cost, it also hopes that conflict — led by our American and British friends and allies — will achieve a lasting peace for the people of Iraq, who have suffered under tyranny and oppression.

THE PROMISE OF ONTARIO

The Throne Speech is a symbol of our parliamentary democracy. In it, your government traditionally tells citizens about its plans and priorities for the years ahead.

Yet this year's Throne Speech is different.

Your government believes that strong leadership is about consultation, not capitulation. It is about principles, not ideology. It is about balancing priorities for all, not giving in to the interests of a few.

Most importantly, it is about encouraging people to share their ideas, work together and speak their minds. That's why your government launched its innovative Throne Speech consultation process.

Today, as never before, the people have spoken.

Ontarians said they want a strong economy that creates jobs and lets them keep more of their hard-earned wages. Your government has listened.

Ontarians said they are proud of our province's health care system and want it strengthened. Your government has listened.

They have called for schools that promote excellence and equality of opportunity. Your government has listened.

They have asked that our natural environment be preserved for future generations. They have demanded that government be more accountable for the tax dollars it spends. They want the province's streets to be safer and its borders secure.

To these requests, and more, your government has listened.

Some might say that listening is an end in itself. Your government believes it is only a good beginning.

Today, your government sets out an ambitious action plan to keep our province competitive and compassionate — to display the values of hard work, humility and excellence seen so often in our citizens and epitomized in the success of 2003 Masters champion, Ontario's own Mike Weir.

Your government has a plan to build a better quality of life for every Ontario family.

To create an equal opportunity for success.

To support the most vulnerable.

Today, your government resolves to devote its energy and experience to seeing the promise of Ontario fulfilled.

STRONG ECONOMY

Since 1995, your government has helped create more than 1.1 million new jobs, dramatically cut taxes, removed barriers to growth, eliminated an $11 billion deficit, started paying down Ontario's debt and helped over 600,000 people get off welfare and find the dignity that comes with a job.

While these are remarkable accomplishments, they do not belong to your government, but to all the Ontarians who seized the opportunities afforded by a strong economy.

Only a strong economy supports investment in priorities such as health care, education, secure communities and the natural environment. Only a strong economy provides the means to make record investments while maintaining a balanced budget.

For the first time since 1908, an Ontario government has introduced five consecutive balanced budgets. It will continue to balance the books.

Your government has paid down $5 billion in provincial debt and will continue to pay down Ontario's debt to ensure long-term growth and prosperity.

Your government remains committed to further reducing the income tax rate for small businesses to five per cent in 2004 and four per cent in 2005. Upon full implementation, more than 125,000 businesses will benefit.

The evidence is clear and convincing — by living within its means, by cutting taxes, balancing priorities and refusing to borrow from future generations to pay for today's success, your government has restored faith in Ontario's economy.

Despite the economic success our province has enjoyed, history has shown that without strong leadership, such gains are easily lost.

Today is tax filing day. Today, Ontarians are especially aware of how much tax they pay — and how much your government has cut taxes in the province.

There are some who feel it is perfectly acceptable for government to consume ever-larger portions of Ontarians' paycheques.

Not your government.

It believes that when Ontarians decide how to spend their own money, we all benefit — and the best way to ensure that they have money to spend is not to tax it away in the first place. Your government believes that tax cuts spur job creation and result in greater revenue. While it has reduced taxes by $16 billion, government revenues have increased by the same amount over the same period.

That's why this year's budget proposed 17 additional tax cuts for seniors, businesses and wage earners. That's why, since 1995, your government has announced 225 tax cuts, giving workers and their families more money to spend, save or invest.

Olive Russell of Brampton, who joins us here today, says: "I think my husband, Frank, and I have more than paid our share of taxes over the last 60 years."

Your government agrees. It will introduce legislation that would provide a tax credit for seniors for the provincial portion of their property tax. It will also introduce legislation to allow more seniors to remain active in the workforce — retiring at a time of their own choosing, not an arbitrary, government-appointed time. It would also give them the resources necessary to stay in their homes and remain active, productive members of society.

To honour the contributions of our veterans, your government is investing $1 million in the Juno Beach Centre in Normandy, France. The centre honours Canadian soldiers who landed on D-Day, inspiring all Canadians through their example. Through the Dominion Institute, your government pledges to record the stories of these heroes for the youth of the future.

Your government believes that a job is the best social program. Continued job growth, spurred by tax cuts and a strong economy, will help unemployed citizens get back on their feet and participate in the promise of Ontario.

Your government recognizes that there are some Ontarians who need extra help to cope with disabilities. It understands that people with disabilities often have special needs that make it difficult for them to work. That's why it will increase Ontario Disability Support Program payments to better help people with disabilities lead happier, more productive and dignified lives.

Your government will reform support for children with special needs to ensure that parents have a greater say in how their needs are met.

Because no child should live in poverty or depend on welfare, your government will provide a special benefit to meet the unique needs of children who require a helping hand. In the coming weeks, your government will unveil further details of this enriched and compassionate benefit.

To ensure that support keeps going where it is needed, your government will continue to crack down on welfare fraud and abuse. Those who commit welfare fraud are stealing from those who need help the most. Every penny your government has recovered from welfare fraud will continue to be returned to the system.

To protect Ontario's family farms and the rights of farm workers, your government is implementing legislation to ensure that our unique agricultural sector is protected from labour disruptions.

To ensure that farmers are protected from circumstances such as droughts or fluctuating markets, your government will provide stability for Ontario farmers. It wishes to work with the federal government to find solutions, but will always be there to support Ontario's farmers.

Your government will also continue working with farmers and provide them with financial support to carry out a nutrient management strategy that will keep our environment protected and our farms strong.

Linda Lockey of Ridgeville wrote your government to say that: "Everyone wants to 'protect the farmland,' farmers included. It is every taxpayer's responsibility to protect and save the farmland for future generations."

The challenges faced in rural Ontario are not the same as those faced in urban communities. That's why, in the coming weeks, your government will unveil a comprehensive rural strategy aimed at addressing the concerns raised by people in rural communities. Your government will strengthen the rural economy, protect services and preserve the cherished way of life so important to Ontario's countryside.

To help protect farmers, small businesses and families, your government is also taking a comprehensive approach to our energy sector, including increasing supply, creating an integrated conservation plan and ensuring that pricing is stable.

Your government knows that a growing economy has growing energy needs. We must never take our energy supply for granted.

Your government will ensure that Ontarians have a supply of power today, tomorrow and into the future. It will work with the private sector on the Portlands Energy Centre Project and the Niagara Tunnel Project. It will pursue agreements with the provinces of Manitoba and Quebec to help supply Ontarians with the power they need.

Your government knows that the energy needs of the 21st century will require comprehensive and innovative solutions. Your government will aggressively pursue technologies to meet Ontario's energy supply needs for generations to come. It will explore options such as wind, hydrogen, solar and generating electricity from waste.

Providing additional generation is only half of the solution. Ontarians have said they want affordable, practical energy conservation measures and cleaner sources of power. Starting immediately, your government will phase out coal-fired generating stations no later than 2015.

Solutions are already on the market that will help Ontario achieve its energy conservation goals, but more must be done to get energy efficient products into the homes of consumers who want them.

Moorefield resident Joan Norris has asked your government to: "Educate the public. Everyone has to be more conscious of saving electricity."

Your government has heard her request and will develop an integrated energy conservation strategy that will include government, the broader public sector and consumers. It proposes to enable people who want to produce their own electricity to more easily sell power back to their local utility — as is done in Europe and the U.S. — develop more tax incentives and a renewable portfolio standard for green energy.

In addition to all these measures, your government will continue to cut taxes, balance the books, reduce debt and help create new jobs so that Ontario will enjoy the best-performing economy and the highest quality of life in North America.

This is an ambitious goal, but an achievable one. Ontario is already well on its way.

Your government will achieve this goal, not because it is ideologically driven, but because it is motivated by values and principles — the same values and principles it shares with all Ontarians.

BETTER HEALTH CARE FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

Hospitals are more than bricks and mortar. They bring us together in times of joy — such as the birth of a child. They bring us together in times of grief — such as when we say goodbye to a loved one for the last time.

Nurses are more than dedicated professionals — we trust them to care for the people we love.

Doctors are more than medical practitioners — we turn to them in times of need.

Ontarians have invested more than our tax dollars in our health care system — it has become part of our identity and the envy of the world.

Your government understands this, and thanks to a strong economy, it has been able to invest another $1.9 billion in health care this year — over $10 billion more than in 1995. Your government has created the first new medical school in 30 years and has increased the number of medical school spaces by 30 per cent. It has also provided funding to create over 12,000 nursing positions and by 2005 will have created 750 nurse practitioner positions.

Your government believes that each Ontarian — from the youngest to the oldest — deserves the best, most up-to-date care. It has worked hard to modernize the system and find new ways to deliver excellent, universally accessible health care for our families.

By making record investments in long-term care, increasing home-care services, and providing innovative services such as Telehealth Ontario, your government has made it possible for hospitals to direct resources where they are most urgently needed.

Andrea Butcher Milne, who has multiple sclerosis and is the mother of a four year-old, says: "I feel that my local health care centre's role in maintaining my health has prevented thousands of dollars you might normally have spent treating the symptoms of my illness."

Your government believes that, despite significant new investments, Ontario's health care system is only a success if it helps all Ontarians. Health care investments must help reduce and eliminate waiting times, increase access to doctors and nurses, strengthen our hospitals, cure diseases and result in new technology that improves patient care.

To improve access to doctors, your government will increase the number of international medical graduates training to practise in Ontario by 20 per cent. It will provide free tuition for current and future medical school students who agree to practise in underserved areas or join Family Health Networks.

To increase the number of nurses practising in Ontario, your government will launch an aggressive nurse recruitment and retention program. This will include free tuition for nursing students who agree to begin their careers in underserved areas. Your government will work to break down the barriers faced by nurse practitioners to expand their numbers and the range of services that they are able to provide.

To support the health care needs of children in the north, your government will invest nearly $6.5 million to support the Electronic Child Health Network North. The network provides an electronic link between health care professionals and families in the north, and hundreds of pediatricians and health care professionals in southern Ontario. This is one step in your government's plan to create a children's health network.

Between 1996 and 2002, your government cut cardiac surgery waiting times in half. Your government's investments have reduced waiting times in emergency rooms.

But there is more to do. No child, parent, senior or any citizen of a compassionate province should have to wait one moment longer than necessary to receive care.

That's why your government will engage Ontario's health professionals in developing guaranteed wait times for procedures such as general surgery, cataract procedures, cancer treatment and hip and knee replacements. It will do the same for diagnostic services such as MRIs.

There are few people in Ontario who have not been touched by cancer through a friend or family member. Yet many experts believe that certain kinds of cancer — such as breast or prostate cancer — can be beaten.

As the late Dr. Charles Hollenberg, world-renowned cancer researcher and former head of Cancer Care Ontario said: "Finding a cure for breast and prostate cancer can be done. It just takes leadership."

Your government will provide that leadership. Our province's researchers have the expertise to help eliminate these deadly diseases. That's why your government will invest $1 billion in a new Cancer Research Institute of Ontario.

Prevention and early detection are vital to effective treatment. That's why your government has added 30 new MRI machines since 1995 and has committed to an additional 20 MRIs and five new CT scanners.

Your government will improve hospitals and free up capital dollars for other priorities by allowing the private sector to provide and maintain the buildings — while relying on the public sector to provide quality care. Your government will continue to provide the services Ontarians depend upon and remains committed to universally accessible health care where and when Ontarians need it.

To ensure that St. Peter's Hospital in Hamilton continues to provide care for young disabled adults and to meet the needs of some of Ontario's most vulnerable citizens, your government will invest in improved continuing care facilities at the hospital.

Your government will also measure the success of health care improvements and ensure that health care dollars are spent wisely. That's why it has introduced stable multi-year funding for hospitals and will introduce legislation to create a permanent Health Quality Auditor to ensure excellent and efficient service.

To help remove the stigma of mental illness and ease the suffering of those afflicted, your government is addressing the mental health needs of children and adults. In its budget, your government announced that it would invest $250 million over five years to move forward with reform. Your government will launch a Premier's Council on mental health that will act as a driving force for change.

The Aboriginal Healing and Wellness Strategy helps aboriginal communities address health service needs through traditional aboriginal teachings and mainstream health services. Your government will renew the strategy and enhance its operation through consultation with Aboriginal Peoples and their communities.

Your government knows that, when it comes to health care, there is always more to do.

There is always a need for new treatments and equipment to cure our sick. Your government will meet challenges that arise through compassion, accountability and a continued dedication to the men, women, seniors and children who rely on our health care system.

EDUCATION FOR THE FUTURE

This is Education Week.

Every child in Ontario deserves an excellent education and an equal opportunity for success in life, regardless of economic circumstances, geographic location, ethnic background or religious belief.

Generations of leaders, entrepreneurs, teachers and professionals succeeded because of the quality education afforded by our public elementary and secondary schools.

Yet, before your government was first elected, Ontario's educators found themselves frustrated by a system that pursued social promotion, not academic excellence, and whose inconsistent, board-by-board approach to funding privileged some schools over others.

In 1995, your government set out to improve our education system, acting on the principled, compassionate conviction that all Ontario's children must be given the means to fulfil their dreams.

That's why your government introduced a new, provincewide funding formula that treats all students equitably. It introduced a rigorous new curriculum, innovative programs such as Early Reading and Early Math and measures to ensure teaching excellence.

In the past, many young people were labelled as unteachable.

Not anymore.

Today, we know that 10 to 15 per cent of the population has some form of learning disability. We know that many learning-disabled children are of above-average intelligence, but also require extra support.

Your government is providing $1.6 billion for special education for 2002-03 to make sure these children have the help they need to learn and succeed.

To ensure that your government's education funding reforms were on track, it commissioned Dr. Mordechai Rozanski's Education Equality Task Force to prepare a report on Ontario's elementary and secondary schools.

Dr. Rozanski confirmed your government's decisions, but made several recommendations to ensure that our schools continue to meet students' needs.

He recommended that an additional $1.8 billion be invested over a three-year period. Within 24 hours of receiving the report, your government took action and has committed to funding that exceeds his recommendations.

As Dr. Rozanski himself said: "Within four months, the government has taken seriously the recommendations and moved to implement more than $1.8 billion in funding over three years."

No matter where they live in Ontario, parents want their children to have access to the opportunities a great education provides. That's why, as recommended by Dr. Rozanski, your government will help its education partners to find ways to strengthen schools in rural and northern communities.

Your government will continue to follow Dr. Rozanski's recommendations, knowing that the promise of Ontario is achievable only if each and every young person is given the opportunity of an excellent education.

Eight years ago, your government set out to make that promise a reality.

Today, the new curriculum is firmly established in every grade of our school system. This June, the first students to study under the new curriculum will graduate from Ontario's high schools. Five years of provincial and international tests are available to clearly show our students' progress.

Your government's education reforms are not only comprehensive — the evidence shows they have been successful.

However, your government will continue to consult with parents, teachers and students on the best ways to continue encouraging excellence.

Sabrina Joseph of Hamilton wrote to your government to say: "Get the students involved in everything! Give us a voice ... we are the future, help us plan it and make it a good one!"

Your government will continue to help each student prepare for challenges and opportunities and give them the tools they need to make their voices heard.

That's why it requires students to meet rigorous literacy standards to receive a high school diploma. To help students thrive, your government will provide the remedial help some need to make the grade.

Your government will provide tools and resources to ensure phonics are available to all schools and encourage higher achievement in math by offering elementary school teachers scholarships to become math specialists.

It will allow athletes, musicians, artists and tradespeople to act as expert instructors or volunteers.

Your government will allow parents more choice to enrol their children in any available school within their board. Schools will still give first placement priority to students who live nearby.

To support parental choice, your government will introduce legislation to continue implementing the Equity in Education Tax Credit.

It is your government's priority to put kids first by ensuring that all students have consistent access to the education they deserve.

In the past, many Ontario students competed only with each other for jobs. But today, they're competing with students worldwide. That's why we must teach our students the skills they need to compete globally.

Your government has heard from students and parents who are worried that qualified students might be turned away from colleges and universities because Grade 13 has been eliminated.

Let there be no doubt that every willing and qualified student will find a space in a post-secondary institution so they can find a rewarding career and go on to fulfil their dreams of a home and a family.

Your government has made that commitment.

Your government will keep that commitment.

It has already made significant investments in our post-secondary institutions to accommodate the increased enrolment for the upcoming school year. Along with its partners, your government is investing $2.6 billion to create more than 135,000 new post-secondary student places — the largest capital investment in Ontario universities and colleges since the 1960s and the equivalent of almost nine McMaster Universities or nearly 11 Sheridan Colleges. It has also provided stability to our colleges and universities through multi-year operating funding and is providing an increase of 21 per cent by 2005-06 over last year's funding.

Your government will take further measures to prepare students for a bright future by increasing its annual investment in colleges and universities and demanding better accountability for results.

It will promote e-learning, so that students anywhere in Ontario can still receive the benefit of a quality education.

To help students with learning disabilities, your government will continue to support the work of the Learning Opportunities Task Force under the direction of Dr. Bette Stephenson. Because of the task force's work, learning-disabled students in each and every Ontario college and university have access to the help they need.

This is a time of unprecedented opportunity and a crucial moment for many industries that need skilled workers. Your government is committed to encouraging young people to seek rewarding and exciting careers in the skilled trades.

Your government will also encourage skilled tradespeople to play an even greater role in mentoring and teaching apprentices. This builds on the proposals made in the 2003 Budget. Your government will also encourage skilled, internationally trained workers to settle in Ontario and build new lives here.

These investments and improvements will help ensure that our students remain among the best trained and educated in the world. Not only will this help them achieve long-term success, it will help Ontario's economy continue to grow.

MAKING GOVERNMENT WORK BETTER

A strong economy requires that governments invest tax dollars wisely in priorities such as health care, education and infrastructure. School boards, hospitals, municipalities, colleges and universities have all said they could plan more effectively if they had multi-year base funding.

Your government is committed to delivering stable base funding on which its partners can depend. In return, taxpayers can expect to see better results and greater accountability in those sectors.

Your government also believes institutions that have the power to make decisions on your behalf must demonstrate fiscal responsibility.

Having taken measures to strengthen public sector accountability and transparency, your government believes that members who pay to keep organizations running should also know how their money is being spent. That's why your government will take steps to require unions to operate on principles of democracy, transparency and accountability.

To ensure that high-quality, effective services are delivered and that funding is used for its intended purpose, your government will introduce legislation to provide Quality Auditors for health, education and municipal services.

Fiscal responsibility requires that everything government does, it does efficiently, while offering citizens the best service at the best price. Your government will continue to find internal savings and enshrine the practice of zero-based budgeting.

Over the past several years, your government has begun improving public services. While the Ontario Public Service has been reduced by 23 per cent, it has won international awards that recognize its creative and innovative approach to public service. Businesses can now be registered in 20 minutes rather than six weeks. Automatic ServiceOntario kiosks in local malls allow citizens to renew vehicle licence plate stickers in a matter of minutes. But there is more to do.

Because Ontarians lead busy, active lives, your government will provide more services online, expand hours at service counters and increase the number of government kiosks.

All of these measures are designed to make Ontario's government and broader public sector more accountable to those it serves — Ontario's citizens. Because our democracy is a work-in-progress, your government remains committed to finding new ways to improve and modernize our democratic institutions. The consultation process that resulted in this Throne Speech is one example of that.

To encourage direct democracy, this session your government will act on recommendations of the Standing Committee of the Legislative Assembly, encouraging free votes on private member's bills, and proposing to double the amount of time devoted to private members and allow private members to co-sponsor bills. It will also increase the opportunity for citizen-led initiatives such as petition filing over the Internet. It will also hold provincial-regional Cabinet meetings.

YOUR COMMUNITY – SAFE AND STRONG

Your government is taking all possible measures to ensure Ontarians' safety and security, protect the province's economy and ensure the free flow of traffic and goods across our borders. That's why your government will continue to promote the development of a North American security perimeter.

Special teams have been established to combat organized crime. The government has provided funding to hire more than 1,000 new police officers and hired 165 probation and parole officers. Your government is committed to funding even more.

The OPP has a long-standing tradition of helping countries in need, such as Kosovo and Sierra Leone. Our American friends have requested assistance in Iraq, and your government will work with the OPP to respond to this request.

Here at home, your government wants criminals to know that crime does not pay.

Ontarians deserve nothing less.

Your government believes that children, victims and other vulnerable people deserve special protection under the law. Those who would seek to harm the innocent deserve the strongest possible punishment.

That's why your government will fight child abuse, including increasing the front-line resources dedicated to fighting child pornography. It will also provide additional resources to rescue children from sexual exploitation, strengthen its high-risk offender strategy and try child exploitation cases in special courts as developed with the judiciary.

That's also why your government will support crime victims and fight crime by implementing call-monitoring and call-blocking services in provincial jails to prevent inmates from harassing victims or their families. It will expand community-based victims' services. It has strengthened the voice of victims through legislation that gives them the right to speak at parole hearings.

To better protect citizens and police, it will develop a package of reforms designed to effectively fight gun-related crimes.

To ensure that drunk and dangerous drivers are kept off our roads, your government will develop even stiffer penalties for drunk driving. It will introduce legislation that would impose lifetime licence suspension upon a second drunk driving conviction and direct vehicle seizure in appropriate cases.

Your government will also introduce a "lemon law" to protect those who purchase consumer goods from having to pay for costly, hidden defects. It will increase access to small claims courts to allow more citizens to have their concerns and complaints heard.

However, strong communities are not held together merely by the force of law, but by everyday relationships between people.

Many Ontarians enjoy participating in artistic and cultural activities. Ontario's talented artistic community not only enriches us culturally, but helps to build strong communities. That's why your government will extend its highly successful Arts Endowment Fund. It will also introduce a new initiative through the Ontario Arts Council to support new business growth and training in the arts.

ONTARIO – GROWING BEAUTIFULLY

Ontarians deserve leadership that considers the needs of citizens today, tomorrow and of generations into the future. They expect their leaders to not only understand the promise of Ontario, but to have a comprehensive plan for seeing that promise fulfilled.

Your government's Smart Growth plan marks the first time in decades that an Ontario government has put forward a comprehensive vision with the power to shape the lives of citizens 10, 20 and 30 years from now.

Smart Growth will encourage orderly, planned development, while protecting our natural environment and farmland. It will unlock gridlock, give people housing choices within walking distance of green spaces and ensure that Ontario has the cleanest air and water in the world.

Your government's five Smart Growth panels are made up of community leaders with expertise in a variety of areas ranging from the municipal sector, the environment, the development industry, transportation and the education community.

Your government has already received feedback from one of its panels and thanks the panel members for their vision and dedication, and will be working with panel leaders and citizens to carry out their vision of orderly local development. In the coming weeks, your government will announce the steps it will take to strengthen planning, transit, transportation and environmental protection.

Your government understands prosperity doesn't happen by chance. Creating a strong economy, promoting a healthy environment and building strong communities require careful planning and smart investment.

Our highways are critical to our province's well-being. Keeping traffic moving smoothly and effectively is also important to workers and their families.

That's why your government will improve our transportation system — both public transit and highways — to help strengthen the economy and build stronger communities. Since 1995, your government has invested more than $3.6 billion in public transit and $7.5 billion in highways. While it continues to make record investments in public transit, your government encourages its federal counterparts to become full partners in Ontario's transit investment plan.

Your government is also preparing for the future by investing in municipal infrastructure. Over the next five years, it will contribute more than $1.6 billion to help build the infrastructure rural communities need to support a growing economy.

Your government is committed to working with municipal governments to meet tough new standards for drinking-water safety. It is committed to ensuring Ontario has the toughest standards in the world for safe, clean drinking water, that those standards are enforced and that all of Commissioner O'Connor's recommendations are implemented.

Your government recognizes the local challenges faced by some municipalities. It will work with them and the federal government to help municipalities meet their funding needs, guided by the principle of accountability and responsibility to taxpayers.

To help encourage development and growth in the north, your government has invested almost $500 million since 1996 in over 1,400 Northern Ontario Heritage Fund projects. These projects were also supported by nearly $1.2 billion from municipal and private sector partners and will generate an estimated 17,750 new jobs.

Your government is committed to supporting scientific and technological research and innovation. Since the 1997 Budget, your government has announced nearly $4.2 billion in investments in science and technology, which are expected to leverage another $5.2 billion from other partners for a total investment of over $9.4 billion. By investing in research and development today, we can ensure that our young people enjoy a promising future, no matter where they live in Ontario.

Your government is committed to the creation of tax-incentive zones that would encourage both large and small businesses to invest, relocate or expand in rural and northern communities. This will create economic growth and give young people the opportunity to remain in the communities where they grew up.

To help reduce infrastructure-financing costs for municipalities, your government has developed municipal opportunity bonds. It will provide a $1 billion capital injection to help kick-start the Ontario Opportunity Bonds program.

These bonds support your government's Smart Growth strategy for building a strong economy, vibrant communities and a clean, healthy environment. They will allow municipalities to borrow money at 50 per cent below market interest rates, reducing the cost of municipal debt.

To keep Ontario beautiful and restore pride, your government will ensure provincial highways are maintained through regular grass cutting and a program to reduce litter. To better show this pride, it will beautify entry points into the province.

Your government will continue to protect Ontario's natural heritage through Ontario's Living Legacy program. It will introduce legislation to protect the Kawartha Highlands Signature Site and work to protect other sites such as the Lake Nipigon basin.

To protect valuable and unique natural features, promote tourism and preserve Ontario's natural heritage for future generations, your government will create new tourism opportunities through the Great Lakes Heritage Coast. It will also help create the Lake Superior National Marine Conservation Area, the largest freshwater reserve in the world.

Your government believes that the promise of Ontario is reflected not only in what we are able to build, but also in what we choose to preserve.

CONCLUSION

Your government began its innovative Throne Speech consultation process with a simple goal in mind: to let the citizens of this great province guide its plans and priorities for the years ahead.

Over 10,000 Ontarians participated in that process, answering your government's invitation online, by fax, by mail and in person.

Your government has been guided by Ontarians. While it remains committed to making the tough decisions necessary to keep Ontario strong, it will also continue to follow the very simple, four-step formula that has guided all of its decisions.

It will ask for citizens' input.

They will answer.

It will listen.

It will take action.

Your government believes this approach is the heart of democracy and the soul of leadership.

Only by working together can we realize the benefits of our strong economy, identify and invest in the priorities that matter and realize the promise of Ontario.

Ontarians have always known about that promise. They have seen it in our province's boundless natural resources. In its proud and productive industries. In its strong social fabric.

Most of all, however, they have seen the promise of Ontario in each other.

In our children, whose lives will be shaped by strong schools, sheltered by safe neighbourhoods and surrounded by opportunity.

They have seen it in new immigrants to Ontario, who will find in this land of promise the security and bright future they seek.

In our seniors, whose experiences, sacrifices and wisdom guide us, our children and all the generations yet to come.

We have worked too hard and come too far to turn away from that promise now.

The promise of Ontario is ours. It guides your government as it makes its decisions. It guides the people of this province as they build a better and brighter future for all.

May God continue to bless Ontario and Canada.

May God guide all in public office, that they may use power wisely and well.

God save the Queen.

Monsieur le président, Mesdames et Messieurs les membres de l'Assemblée législative, chers invités, concitoyennes et concitoyens.

Au cours des dernières semaines, l'Ontario a fait face à une flambée du syndrome respiratoire aigu sévère (SRAS). Cette maladie, qui a touché de nombreux pays, a causé une grave crise sanitaire.

Tout en restant vigilant, votre gouvernement met sa confiance dans le courage et le professionnalisme extraordinaires des infirmières et infirmiers, des médecins, du personnel ambulancier paramédical, des équipes de recherche médicale, des techniciennes et techniciens de laboratoire, des scientifiques et des autres héros qui travaillent en première ligne. L'Ontario a une dette immense de reconnaissance envers ces personnes qui sont restées à pied d'œuvre pendant de longues heures, jour et nuit, et envers les membres de leur famille qui les ont soutenues. Elles ont aidé l'Ontario à passer un cap décisif dans la lutte contre le SRAS, démontrant ainsi au monde entier que notre province est un endroit sûr pour sa population et les visiteurs de l'extérieur.

Nous présentons nos condoléances les plus sincères aux familles auxquelles cette maladie a enlevé un être cher.

Pour continuer à réparer les dommages causés par le SRAS, votre gouvernement a promis d'aider les hôpitaux à faire face à l'accumulation des retards dus au SRAS, d'indemniser les travailleurs, de protéger notre économie et d'en faire la promotion. Il déposera plus tard aujourd'hui un projet de loi qui, s'il est adopté, protégera les emplois des travailleurs et accordera des pouvoirs accrus aux responsables chargés d'enrayer le SRAS et d'autres maladies infectieuses. Au cours des jours et des semaines à venir, votre gouvernement prendra d'autres mesures pour remédier aux difficultés suscitées par cette crise.

C'est dans de telles circonstances que se révèlent pleinement les valeurs de la société ontarienne.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont l'esprit de compétition, mais aussi le sens de la compassion. Nous connaissons le succès, mais nous estimons que nul ne doit être laissé pour compte. Nous sommes fiers de nos réalisations, mais nous croyons en la promesse d'un avenir encore meilleur pour notre province.

C'est la promesse de l'Ontario qui a incité des gens et des familles du monde entier à venir commencer une nouvelle vie chez nous. C'est la promesse de l'Ontario qui a conduit des femmes et des hommes dynamiques à établir des entreprises prospères et des collectivités vigoureuses. C'est la promesse de l'Ontario qui anime nos concitoyennes et concitoyens de tous âges et leur permet d'espérer, de rêver et de réussir.

C'est cette promesse qui motive votre gouvernement et qui a amené les membres de l'Assemblée en ce lieu pour servir la population de l'Ontario et contribuer à bâtir son avenir.

Au nom de notre souveraine, je vous souhaite la bienvenue à cette quatrième session de la 37^e Législature de l'Ontario.

UN MOMENT DE RÉFLEXION ET DE SOUVENIR

Depuis la dernière réunion de l'Assemblée législative, l'Ontario a perdu trois anciens députés.

Frank Drea était un député que sa franchise avait rendu populaire auprès de ses collègues. Ses efforts pour défendre les intérêts des consommateurs, des travailleurs et des personnes handicapées en avaient fait un leader respecté.

Ron McNeil a représenté la population du comté d'Elgin pendant une trentaine d'années. Nous l'estimons tous, quelle que soit notre allégeance politique, pour son excellent travail au nom des autres exploitants agricoles.

Russ Ramsay avait un sens du devoir, une amabilité et une droiture qui suscitaient l'admiration de la population de Sault Ste. Marie et de toute la province et qui lui ont valu de recevoir l'Ordre du Canada.

En janvier, quatre fonctionnaires du ministère des Richesses naturelles ont péri dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions lorsque leur hélicoptère s'est écrasé près de Sault Ste. Marie. Votre gouvernement pleure la disparition de Michael Maguire, Walter Ceolin, Bruce Stubbs et Chantelle Walkey. Il a dédié une nouvelle réserve de conservation à leur mémoire.

L'Ontario vient également de perdre l'un de ses chefs spirituels les plus estimés. Le cardinal Gerald Emmett Carter était un lettré remarquable et un défenseur acharné de la justice sociale. Pendant 53 ans, il s'est dévoué inlassablement au service des Ontariennes et Ontariens de toutes confessions. Sa détermination à aborder de front les questions controversées lui a valu le respect des leaders comme des gens ordinaires. C'est une grande perte, tant pour la communauté catholique que pour l'ensemble de la population ontarienne.

Nous pensons aussi aux victimes de la guerre en Iraq. Votre gouvernement déplore les coûts tragiques de la guerre, mais il espère également que cette action, dirigée par nos amis et alliés américains et britanniques, permettra d'instaurer une paix durable pour la population iraquienne, qui a souffert de la tyrannie et de l'oppression.

LA PROMESSE DE L'ONTARIO

Le discours du Trône est un symbole de notre démocratie parlementaire. Votre gouvernement y expose ses projets et ses priorités pour les années à venir.

Pourtant, le discours du Trône de cette année est différent.

Votre gouvernement estime qu'un leadership fort est affaire de consultation et non de capitulation, de principes et non d'idéologie. Il s'agit d'équilibrer les priorités pour le bien commun et non de céder aux représentants d'intérêts minoritaires.

Mieux encore, il s'agit d'encourager les gens à faire part de leurs idées, à collaborer et à s'exprimer. C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement a lancé un processus de consultation innovateur en prévision du discours du Trône.

Aujourd'hui plus que jamais auparavant, nous pouvons affirmer que la population a véritablement eu voix au chapitre.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont dit qu'ils voulaient une économie vigoureuse qui crée des emplois et leur permette de conserver une plus grande part de leur salaire durement gagné. Votre gouvernement les a écoutés.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont exprimé leur fierté à l'égard du système de santé de la province et ils souhaitent qu'il soit renforcé. Votre gouvernement les a écoutés.

Ils ont demandé que les écoles mettent l'accent sur l'excellence et l'égalité des chances. Votre gouvernement les a écoutés.

Ils ont demandé que notre milieu naturel soit protégé pour les générations à venir. Ils ont demandé que le gouvernement rende mieux compte de la façon dont il dépense les deniers publics. Ils veulent que nos rues soient plus sûres et nos frontières, protégées.

Votre gouvernement les a écoutés et il a tenu compte de ces demandes et de bien d'autres.

Certains diront que l'écoute est une fin en soi. Votre gouvernement est convaincu que ce n'est qu'un point de départ.

Votre gouvernement présente aujourd'hui un plan d'action ambitieux visant à maintenir la compétitivité et la compassion de notre province en misant sur l'ardeur au travail, l'humilité et l'excellence, valeurs si souvent à l'œuvre chez nos concitoyens et symbolisées par le succès de l'Ontarien Mike Weir, champion du Tournoi des Maîtres 2003.

Votre gouvernement s'est doté d'un plan visant à améliorer la qualité de vie de toutes les familles de l'Ontario.

À offrir à tous des chances égales de succès.

À soutenir les membres les plus vulnérables de notre société.

Votre gouvernement s'engage aujourd'hui fermement à mobiliser son énergie et son expérience afin de concrétiser la promesse de l'Ontario.

UNE ÉCONOMIE VIGOUREUSE

Depuis 1995, votre gouvernement a contribué à la création de plus de 1,1 million d'emplois, réduit considérablement les impôts, supprimé les obstacles qui nuisaient à la croissance, éliminé un déficit de 11 milliards de dollars, commencé à rembourser la dette de l'Ontario et aidé plus de 600 000 personnes à s'affranchir de l'aide sociale et à retrouver leur dignité en occupant un emploi.

Si remarquables que soient ces réalisations, elle ne sont pas le fait de votre gouvernement, mais de tous les Ontariens et Ontariennes qui ont su saisir les occasions offertes par une économie vigoureuse.

Seule une économie vigoureuse permet d'investir dans des secteurs prioritaires comme la santé, l'éducation, la sécurité publique et l'environnement. Seule une économie vigoureuse nous donne les moyens d'effectuer des investissements sans précédent, tout en maintenant l'équilibre budgétaire.

Pour la première fois depuis 1908, le gouvernement de l'Ontario a présenté cinq budgets équilibrés d'affilée. Il entend continuer à équilibrer les comptes.

Votre gouvernement a remboursé 5 milliards de dollars de la dette provinciale et continuera à la rembourser afin d'assurer la croissance et la prospérité de l'Ontario à long terme.

Votre gouvernement demeure résolu à réduire encore le taux d'imposition des petites entreprises, pour le ramener à cinq pour cent en 2004 et à quatre pour cent en 2005. Plus de 125 000 entreprises bénéficieront de ces mesures lorsqu'elles seront complètement mises en œuvre.

Les preuves sont claires et convaincantes : en dépensant selon ses moyens, en réduisant les impôts, en équilibrant les priorités et en refusant d'endetter les générations futures pour financer la réussite d'aujourd'hui, votre gouvernement a rétabli la confiance à l'égard de l'économie de l'Ontario.

Il est certain que notre province jouit d'une belle réussite économique, mais l'histoire nous enseigne que, sans un leadership fort, ces gains peuvent facilement disparaître.

C'est aujourd'hui la date limite pour le dépôt des déclarations de revenus. C'est le jour où les Ontariennes et Ontariens prennent particulièrement conscience des impôts qu'ils paient et des nombreuses réductions d'impôt consenties par le gouvernement provincial.

Il y en a qui trouvent tout à fait acceptable que le gouvernement prélève une proportion toujours croissante du chèque de paie des Ontariennes et Ontariens.

Ce n'est pas le cas de votre gouvernement.

Il estime qu'il est dans notre intérêt à tous que les Ontariennes et Ontariens décident eux-mêmes de la façon de dépenser leur propre argent et que la meilleure manière de s'assurer qu'ils ont de l'argent à dépenser, c'est de commencer par ne pas les écraser d'impôts. Le gouvernement est persuadé que les réductions d'impôt stimulent la création d'emplois et les recettes. Alors qu'il réduisait les impôts de 16 milliards de dollars, il a en effet vu ses recettes augmenter dans la même proportion au cours de la même période.

C'est pour cela que le budget de cette année proposait 17 réductions d'impôt supplémentaires pour les aînés, les entreprises et les salariés. C'est pour cela que, depuis 1995, votre gouvernement a annoncé 225 réductions d'impôt, qui ont permis aux gens qui travaillent et à leur famille de disposer d'une plus grande part de leurs revenus pour dépenser, épargner ou investir.

Voici ce que nous dit Olive Russell, de Brampton, qui est parmi nous aujourd'hui : « Mon mari Frank et moi avons payé plus que notre part d'impôts au cours des 60 dernières années. »

Votre gouvernement est bien de cet avis. Il déposera un projet de loi en vue d'offrir aux personnes âgées un crédit d'impôt correspondant à la part provinciale de leur impôt foncier. Il présentera aussi un projet de loi visant à permettre à un plus grand nombre de personnes âgées de rester au sein de la population active. Elles pourront ainsi prendre leur retraite quand bon leur semblera et non à un moment choisi arbitrairement par le gouvernement. Cela leur permettrait aussi de disposer des ressources nécessaires pour rester dans leur logement et demeurer des membres actifs et productifs de la société.

Désireux de reconnaître les contributions de nos anciens combattants, votre gouvernement affecte 1 million de dollars au Centre Juno Beach, en Normandie. Ce centre rend hommage aux soldats canadiens qui ont participé au débarquement et qui, par leur exemple, sont une source d'inspiration pour tous les Canadiens et Canadiennes. Par l'entremise de l'Institut du Dominion, votre gouvernement s'engage à consigner les exploits de ces héros pour les jeunes de demain.

Votre gouvernement croit que l'emploi représente le meilleur programme social. Grâce à la croissance continue de l'emploi, stimulée par les réductions d'impôt et la vigueur de l'économie, les chômeurs peuvent se remettre en selle et participer à la promesse de l'Ontario.

Votre gouvernement reconnaît que certaines personnes ont besoin d'une aide supplémentaire pour faire face à un handicap. Il comprend que les personnes handicapées ont souvent des besoins particuliers qui leur causent des difficultés sur le marché du travail. C'est pourquoi le gouvernement augmentera les prestations du Programme ontarien de soutien aux personnes handicapées afin de mieux aider les personnes ayant un handicap à vivre de façon plus heureuse et plus productive, dans une plus grande dignité.

Votre gouvernement réformera l'aide destinée aux enfants ayant des besoins particuliers afin de veiller à ce que les parents aient davantage voix au chapitre quant à la façon dont ces besoins sont comblés.

Aucun enfant ne devrait vivre dans la pauvreté ou dépendre de l'aide sociale. Votre gouvernement fournira donc une prestation spéciale destinée à combler les besoins uniques des enfants auxquels il faut tendre une main secourable. Au cours des prochaines semaines, il dévoilera des détails supplémentaires sur cette prestation de commisération.

Pour veiller à ce que l'aide continue à bénéficier aux personnes qui en ont besoin, votre gouvernement poursuivra ses initiatives de lutte contre la fraude et les abus dans le système de l'aide sociale. Car cette fraude est un vol au détriment des personnes qui ont le plus besoin d'aide. Votre gouvernement continuera de reverser au système de l'aide sociale tout l'argent que permet de récupérer la lutte contre la fraude.

Soucieux de protéger les exploitations agricoles familiales et les droits des travailleuses et travailleurs agricoles de l'Ontario, votre gouvernement met en œuvre des mesures législatives pour que notre remarquable secteur agricole soit à l'abri des interruptions de travail.

Pour protéger les exploitants agricoles contre des circonstances telles que les périodes de sécheresse ou les fluctuations des marchés, votre gouvernement entend assurer la stabilité du secteur agricole de l'Ontario. Il souhaite collaborer avec le gouvernement fédéral pour trouver des solutions, mais il sera toujours là pour aider nos exploitants agricoles.

Votre gouvernement poursuivra aussi sa collaboration avec les exploitants agricoles et leur fournira l'aide financière nécessaire pour mettre en œuvre une stratégie de gestion des éléments nutritifs qui protégera notre environnement et préservera la vitalité de nos exploitations agricoles.

Linda Lockey, de Ridgeville, a écrit que « tout le monde veut "protéger les terres agricoles", à commencer par les agriculteurs. La préservation des terres cultivables pour les générations futures est une responsabilité qui incombe à tous les contribuables ».

Les défis à relever en milieu rural diffèrent de ceux qui se présentent dans nos villes. C'est pourquoi, dans les semaines à venir, votre gouvernement dévoilera une stratégie rurale complète, visant à répondre aux préoccupations exprimées par les membres des collectivités rurales. Votre gouvernement entend revitaliser l'économie rurale, préserver les services ainsi que le mode de vie auquel on tient tant dans les campagnes ontariennes.

Afin de contribuer à protéger les exploitations agricoles, les petites entreprises et les familles, votre gouvernement a aussi adopté une approche globale pour notre secteur de l'énergie, qui prévoit une augmentation de l'approvisionnement, l'élaboration d'un plan intégré d'économie de l'énergie et des mesures assurant des tarifs stables.

Votre gouvernement est conscient que l'essor de l'économie entraîne des besoins énergétiques croissants. Nous ne devons jamais tenir pour acquises nos sources d'approvisionnement en énergie.

Votre gouvernement fera en sorte que la population ontarienne puisse compter sur un approvisionnement en énergie à court, moyen et long terme. Il collaborera avec le secteur privé à la réalisation du Projet d'établissement d'un centre de l'énergie dans le secteur Portlands et du Projet de construction d'un tunnel à Niagara. Il s'emploiera aussi à conclure des ententes avec le Manitoba et le Québec afin de contribuer à fournir à la population de l'Ontario l'électricité dont elle a besoin.

Votre gouvernement sait qu'il faudra des solutions complètes et innovatrices pour combler les besoins énergétiques au XXI^e siècle. Votre gouvernement recherchera très activement des solutions technologiques qui permettront de répondre aux besoins énergétiques de l'Ontario pour les générations à venir. Il envisagera diverses options, telles que l'énergie éolienne, l'énergie solaire et la production d'électricité à partir de l'hydrogène ou des déchets.

L'accroissement de la production électrique ne représente qu'une solution partielle. Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont dit qu'ils voulaient des mesures abordables et pratiques d'économie d'énergie ainsi que des sources d'énergie plus propres. Votre gouvernement va commencer immédiatement la mise hors service progressive des centrales électriques alimentées au charbon, pour les éliminer complètement d'ici 2015.

Il existe déjà sur le marché des solutions qui aideront l'Ontario à atteindre ses objectifs en matière d'économie d'énergie, mais il faut faire davantage pour favoriser l'installation de produits éconergétiques chez les consommateurs qui en réclament.

Voici ce que Joan Norris, de Moorefield, a demandé au gouvernement : « Il faut sensibiliser la population. Tout le monde doit mieux comprendre la nécessité d'économiser l'électricité. »

Votre gouvernement l'a entendue et a décidé d'élaborer une stratégie intégrée d'économie de l'énergie qu'il mettra en œuvre avec la collaboration du secteur parapublic et des consommateurs. Il propose de permettre aux personnes qui veulent produire leur propre électricité de vendre plus facilement leur surplus à la compagnie d'électricité locale, comme cela se fait en Europe et aux États-Unis. Il élaborera également un plus grand nombre d'incitatifs fiscaux ainsi qu'une norme en matière d'offre d'énergie renouvelable pour promouvoir l'énergie verte.

En plus de toutes ces mesures, votre gouvernement continuera à réduire les impôts, à équilibrer les comptes, à rembourser la dette et à favoriser la création d'emplois pour que l'Ontario jouisse de l'économie la plus florissante et de la meilleure qualité de vie en Amérique du Nord.

Si ambitieux qu'il soit, cet objectif n'en demeure pas moins réaliste. L'Ontario a déjà accompli des progrès notables dans ce sens.

Votre gouvernement réalisera cet objectif non parce qu'il procède d'une motivation idéologique, mais parce qu'il repose sur des valeurs et des principes qu'il partage avec toute la population de l'Ontario.

DE MEILLEURS SERVICES DE SANTÉ POUR VOUS ET VOTRE FAMILLE

Les hôpitaux ne sont pas de simples bâtiments. Ils nous rassemblent à l'occasion de grands bonheurs, comme la naissance d'un enfant, mais aussi de chagrins, comme le dernier adieu à un être cher.

Les infirmières et infirmiers ne sont pas seulement des professionnels dévoués – nous leur faisons confiance pour prendre soin de ceux que nous aimons.

Les médecins sont bien plus que des spécialistes de la santé – nous nous tournons vers eux lorsque nous avons besoin d'aide.

En Ontario, nous avons investi plus que l'argent de nos impôts dans le système de santé – ce dernier fait maintenant partie de notre identité et suscite l'admiration dans le monde entier.

Votre gouvernement le comprend et, grâce à une économie vigoureuse, il a pu affecter un montant supplémentaire de 1,9 milliard de dollars au secteur de la santé cette année. L'enveloppe annuelle de la santé est maintenant supérieure de plus de 10 milliards de dollars à celle de 1995. Votre gouvernement a créé la première nouvelle faculté de médecine depuis 30 ans et il a augmenté de 30 pour 100 le nombre de places dans les facultés de médecine. Il a également affecté des fonds pour accroître de plus de 12 000 le nombre de postes d'infirmières et infirmiers et, d'ici 2005, il aura ouvert 750 postes d'infirmières et infirmiers praticiens.

Votre gouvernement estime que tous les Ontariens et Ontariennes – les plus jeunes comme les plus âgés – méritent les soins les meilleurs et les plus avancés. Il met tout en œuvre pour moderniser le système et trouver de nouvelles manières de fournir à nos familles d'excellents soins, universellement accessibles.

Grâce à des investissements records dans les soins de longue durée, à l'expansion des soins à domicile et à des services innovateurs comme Télésanté Ontario, votre gouvernement permet aux hôpitaux d'affecter leurs ressources aux besoins les plus pressants.

Andrea Butcher Milne, mère d'un enfant de quatre ans, est atteinte de la sclérose en plaques. « Je pense, dit-elle, que le rôle joué par mon centre de santé a permis d'économiser les milliers de dollars qu'aurait normalement pu coûter le traitement de ma maladie. »

Votre gouvernement a la conviction que, même avec d'importants nouveaux investissements dans les soins de santé, le système de santé n'est une réussite que s'il aide tous les Ontariens et Ontariennes. Les investissements dans le secteur de la santé doivent viser à réduire, voire éliminer les délais d'attente, à accroître l'accès aux médecins et au personnel infirmier, à renforcer nos hôpitaux, à guérir les maladies et à permettre de concevoir de nouvelles technologies qui amélioreront les soins aux malades.

Pour améliorer l'accès aux médecins, votre gouvernement augmentera de 20 pour 100 le nombre de diplômés des facultés de médecine étrangères qui recevront une formation pour exercer en Ontario. Il exemptera des droits de scolarité les étudiantes et étudiants en médecine actuels et futurs qui acceptent d'exercer dans des régions insuffisamment desservies ou de se joindre aux réseaux Santé famille.

Pour accroître le nombre d'infirmières et infirmiers exerçant en Ontario, votre gouvernement lancera un programme dynamique de recrutement et de conservation du personnel. Il exemptera notamment des droits de scolarité les infirmières et infirmiers qui s'engageront à débiter leur carrière dans des régions insuffisamment desservies. Votre gouvernement s'efforcera d'éliminer les obstacles auxquels se heurtent les infirmières et infirmiers praticiens afin d'en accroître le nombre et d'élargir la gamme de services qu'ils pourront fournir.

Pour répondre aux besoins des enfants du Nord en matière de santé, votre gouvernement affectera près de 6,5 millions de dollars à l'expansion dans le Nord du Réseau électronique pour la santé des enfants. Grâce à ce réseau, les professionnels de la santé et les familles du Nord disposent d'un lien électronique avec des centaines de pédiatres et de professionnels de la santé du Sud de l'Ontario. Il s'agit d'une des étapes du plan que le gouvernement a établi pour la création d'un réseau de santé pour les enfants.

Entre 1996 et 2002, votre gouvernement a réduit de moitié les délais d'attente pour les interventions chirurgicales en cardiologie. Les investissements de votre gouvernement ont réduit les périodes d'attente dans les salles d'urgence.

Mais il faut faire plus. Pas un enfant, parent, aîné ou autre citoyenne ou citoyen d'une province qui croit à la compassion ne devrait avoir à attendre, ne serait-ce qu'un instant de plus que nécessaire, pour recevoir des soins.

C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement invitera les professionnels de la santé de l'Ontario à définir des délais d'attente maximaux garantis pour des actes médicaux comme les interventions chirurgicales générales, les opérations de la cataracte, le traitement du cancer et le remplacement de l'articulation de la hanche ou du genou. On procédera de même pour les services diagnostiques, comme les examens par imagerie par résonance magnétique (IRM).

Rares sont les personnes en Ontario qui ne comptent pas une victime du cancer parmi leurs amis ou les membres de leur famille. Pourtant, de nombreux experts pensent qu'il est possible de vaincre certains types de cancers tels que le cancer du sein ou de la prostate.

Comme l'a dit le regretté Dr Charles Hollenberg, sommité de réputation internationale dans le domaine de la recherche en cancérologie et ancien directeur d'Action Cancer Ontario, « Il est possible de trouver un traitement contre le cancer du sein et le cancer de la prostate – c'est une question de leadership ».

Votre gouvernement offrira ce leadership. Le personnel de recherche de l'Ontario a l'expertise nécessaire pour contribuer à l'élimination de ces maladies mortelles. C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement affectera 1 milliard de dollars à la création d'un nouvel Institut ontarien de recherche sur le cancer.

La prévention et la détection précoce sont des éléments cruciaux d'un traitement efficace. C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement a doté la province de 30 nouveaux appareils IRM depuis 1995 et a prévu l'acquisition de 20 autres appareils IRM et de cinq nouveaux tomodesitomètres.

Votre gouvernement va améliorer les hôpitaux et libérer des capitaux pour les affecter à d'autres priorités en permettant au secteur privé de fournir et d'entretenir les immeubles, tout en misant sur le secteur public pour la prestation de soins de qualité. Votre gouvernement continuera à fournir les services sur lesquels compte la population de l'Ontario et reste fidèle à la notion d'un système de santé universel, qui offre des services accessibles à l'endroit et au moment où les Ontariennes et Ontariens en ont besoin.

Pour que l'Hôpital St. Peter's de Hamilton puisse continuer à prodiguer des soins aux jeunes adultes ayant un handicap et à répondre aux besoins de certaines des personnes les plus vulnérables de la province, votre gouvernement investira dans l'amélioration des installations de soins continus de cet hôpital.

Votre gouvernement évaluera également le degré d'amélioration des soins de santé et s'assurera que les fonds consacrés à la santé sont dépensés judicieusement. C'est pourquoi il a introduit une formule de financement pluriannuel stable pour les hôpitaux et déposera un projet de loi créant un poste permanent de vérificateur de la qualité des services de santé afin de fournir des services à la fois excellents et efficaces.

Pour contribuer à éliminer la stigmatisation des personnes atteintes d'une maladie mentale et alléger les souffrances que cela entraîne, votre gouvernement s'occupe de répondre aux besoins des enfants et des adultes dans le domaine de la santé mentale. Dans son budget, il a annoncé son intention d'affecter 250 millions de dollars sur cinq ans à la réforme des services de santé mentale. Votre gouvernement créera le Conseil du premier ministre sur les services de santé mentale, qui sera un élément moteur du changement.

La Stratégie de ressourcement pour le mieux-être des Autochtones aide les collectivités autochtones à répondre à leurs besoins en matière de santé au moyen d'enseignements autochtones traditionnels et de services de santé conventionnels. Votre gouvernement renouvellera cette stratégie et en améliorera le fonctionnement en consultant les peuples autochtones et leurs collectivités.

Votre gouvernement sait que, dans le domaine de la santé, il y a toujours plus à faire.

Nous avons sans cesse besoin de nouveaux traitements et de nouveau matériel pour traiter nos malades. Votre gouvernement relèvera les nouveaux défis en faisant preuve de compassion, de responsabilité et d'une volonté constante de répondre aux besoins des hommes, des femmes, des personnes âgées et des enfants qui comptent sur nos services de santé.

UNE ÉDUCATION AXÉE SUR L'AVENIR

C'est maintenant la semaine de l'éducation.

Tous les enfants de l'Ontario méritent une excellente éducation et des chances de succès égales dans la vie, indépendamment de leur situation économique, du lieu où ils habitent, de leurs origines ethniques ou de leurs convictions religieuses.

Des générations de leaders, de chefs d'entreprise, d'enseignantes et enseignants et de membres des professions libérales doivent leur réussite à l'enseignement de qualité dispensé par nos écoles publiques élémentaires et secondaires.

Or, avant que votre gouvernement ne soit élu pour la première fois, les éducateurs de l'Ontario étaient aux prises avec un système qui accordait plus d'importance à l'aspect social du passage à la classe supérieure qu'à l'excellence des connaissances. De plus, la formule de financement variait selon les conseils scolaires, privilégiant ainsi certaines écoles par rapport aux autres.

En 1995, votre gouvernement a décidé d'améliorer notre système d'éducation. C'était pour lui une question de principe et de compassion car il était convaincu qu'il faut offrir aux enfants de l'Ontario les moyens de réaliser leurs rêves.

C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement a adopté une nouvelle formule de financement s'appliquant à toute la province qui permet de traiter équitablement l'ensemble des élèves. Il a introduit un nouveau curriculum rigoureux, des programmes innovateurs, comme la Stratégie de lecture et la Stratégie de mathématiques au primaire, et d'autres mesures visant à assurer l'excellence de l'enseignement.

Dans le passé, beaucoup de jeunes étaient considérés comme réfractaires à toute forme d'enseignement.

Ce n'est plus le cas.

Aujourd'hui, nous savons que 10 à 15 pour 100 de la population présente une difficulté d'apprentissage. Nous savons que beaucoup des enfants touchés ont un niveau d'intelligence supérieur à la moyenne, mais qu'ils ont aussi besoin d'une aide supplémentaire.

Votre gouvernement a affecté 1,6 milliard de dollars à l'éducation de l'enfance en difficulté en 2002-2003 pour veiller à ce que les enfants en cause reçoivent toute l'aide dont ils ont besoin pour apprendre et réussir.

Pour vérifier le bien-fondé des réformes qu'il a apportées au financement de l'éducation, votre gouvernement a chargé le Groupe d'étude sur l'égalité en matière d'éducation, dirigé par Mordechai Rozanski, de préparer un rapport sur les écoles élémentaires et secondaires de l'Ontario.

M. Rozanski a ratifié les décisions de votre gouvernement, mais il a fait plusieurs recommandations pour que nos écoles continuent de répondre aux besoins des élèves.

Il a recommandé l'affectation, sur trois ans, de 1,8 milliard de dollars supplémentaires au secteur de l'éducation. Votre gouvernement a réagi dans les 24 heures qui ont suivi la réception du rapport en s'engageant à assurer un financement qui dépasse ces recommandations.

M. Rozanski l'a constaté lui-même : « Le gouvernement a pris les recommandations au sérieux et, dans les quatre mois, il a fait le nécessaire pour affecter plus de 1,8 milliard de dollars sur trois ans au financement de l'éducation. »

Où qu'ils habitent en Ontario, les parents veulent que leurs enfants puissent bénéficier des possibilités que leur ouvre une solide éducation. C'est pourquoi, comme l'a recommandé M. Rozanski, votre gouvernement aidera ses partenaires en éducation à trouver des moyens d'améliorer les écoles dans les collectivités rurales et du Nord.

Votre gouvernement continuera à suivre les recommandations de M. Rozanski, sachant que l'Ontario ne remplira sa promesse que si tous les jeunes Ontariens et Ontariennes sans exception ont accès à une éducation de qualité.

Il y a huit ans, votre gouvernement a décidé de faire de cette promesse une réalité.

Aujourd'hui, le nouveau curriculum est fermement établi pour chaque année d'études de notre système scolaire. Au mois de juin de cette année, les premiers élèves à avoir suivi le nouveau curriculum obtiendront leur diplôme d'études secondaires de l'Ontario. Cinq années d'évaluations provinciales et internationales sont là pour témoigner de leurs progrès.

Non seulement votre gouvernement a procédé à des réformes exhaustives, mais tout indique que ses réformes portent fruit.

Il poursuivra cependant ses consultations avec les parents, le personnel enseignant et les élèves pour définir les meilleures façons de continuer à encourager l'excellence.

Sabrina Joseph, de Hamilton, a adressé la demande suivante à votre gouvernement : « Consultez toujours les élèves! Écoutez ce que nous avons à dire [...] nous représentons l'avenir, aidez-nous à le préparer et à en faire quelque chose de beau. »

Votre gouvernement continuera d'aider chaque élève à se préparer à relever les défis et à saisir les occasions que la vie lui réservera, et de lui donner les outils nécessaires pour faire entendre sa voix.

C'est pourquoi il oblige les élèves à satisfaire à des normes rigoureuses en matière de compétences linguistiques avant de pouvoir recevoir leur diplôme d'études secondaires. Pour les aider à réussir, il dispensera, le cas échéant, l'aide de rattrapage nécessaire.

Votre gouvernement mettra des outils et des ressources d'enseignement de la lecture par la phonétique à la disposition de toutes les écoles et, pour favoriser l'amélioration des résultats en mathématiques, il offrira aux membres du personnel enseignant des écoles élémentaires des bourses de spécialisation en mathématiques.

Il invitera des athlètes, des musiciennes et musiciens, des artistes et des gens de métier à agir à titre de bénévoles ou d'instructeurs spécialisés.

Votre gouvernement élargira l'éventail des choix des parents, qui pourront inscrire leurs enfants dans toute école de leur conseil où des places sont disponibles. Les écoles continueront cependant à accueillir en priorité les élèves qui habitent à proximité.

Pour aider les parents à exercer d'autres choix, votre gouvernement proposera un projet de loi visant à poursuivre l'application du crédit d'impôt pour l'équité en matière d'éducation.

L'essentiel, pour votre gouvernement, est de donner la priorité aux enfants en veillant à ce que les élèves aient uniformément accès à l'enseignement qu'ils méritent.

Par le passé, les étudiantes et étudiants de l'Ontario ne rivalisaient le plus souvent qu'entre eux pour obtenir des emplois. De nos jours, ils sont en compétition avec leurs homologues du monde entier, d'où la nécessité de leur enseigner les habiletés nécessaires pour se faire une place sur le marché international.

Votre gouvernement sait qu'il y a des élèves et des parents qui craignent de voir les collègues et les universités fermer leurs portes à des élèves qualifiés, par suite de la suppression de la 13^e année.

Nul ne doit douter que chaque élève qualifié et motivé qui le désire trouvera une place dans un établissement d'enseignement postsecondaire afin de pouvoir embrasser la carrière qui lui convient et réaliser un jour son rêve d'avoir une maison et une famille.

Votre gouvernement s'y est engagé.

Et c'est un engagement qu'il tiendra.

Il a déjà investi des sommes considérables dans nos établissements d'enseignement postsecondaire en prévision de l'augmentation des effectifs à la prochaine rentrée scolaire. Avec ses partenaires, il affecte actuellement 2,6 milliards de dollars à la création de plus de 135 000 nouvelles places dans les établissements d'enseignement postsecondaire. Il s'agit là du plus important investissement de capitaux dans les universités et les collèges de l'Ontario depuis les années 1960, soit l'équivalent de près de neuf universités McMaster ou de presque 11 collèges Sheridan. Le gouvernement a aussi offert aux collèges et aux universités la stabilité d'un financement pluriannuel, et il leur accordera, d'ici 2005-2006, une augmentation de 21 pour 100 par rapport au financement de l'exercice passé.

Dans le cadre des autres mesures que prendra votre gouvernement pour préparer les jeunes à un brillant avenir, il augmentera son investissement annuel dans les collèges et les universités et exigera des comptes rendus plus rigoureux sur les résultats obtenus.

Il favorisera l'apprentissage en ligne pour que les étudiantes et étudiants de tout l'Ontario puissent bénéficier d'un enseignement de qualité.

Pour aider ceux qui ont des difficultés d'apprentissage, votre gouvernement continuera à financer le travail effectué par le Groupe d'étude sur les programmes d'aide à l'apprentissage sous la direction de Mme Bette Stephenson. Grâce aux efforts du groupe d'étude, tous les étudiants et étudiantes en difficulté des collèges et des universités de l'Ontario, sans exception, ont accès à l'aide dont ils ont besoin.

Nous sommes à un moment crucial où nombre d'industries ont besoin de main-d'œuvre spécialisée, ce qui crée des occasions sans précédent. Votre gouvernement est résolu à encourager les jeunes à envisager une carrière enrichissante et passionnante dans un métier spécialisé.

Votre gouvernement encouragera aussi des gens de métier spécialisés à jouer un rôle encore plus important dans le mentorat et l'enseignement des apprentis. Cela fait suite aux propositions présentées dans le budget de 2003. Votre gouvernement invitera également des travailleurs spécialisés formés à l'étranger à venir s'installer en Ontario.

Ces investissements et ces améliorations aideront à maintenir nos élèves parmi les mieux formés et les plus instruits du monde. Non seulement cela leur permettra de réussir à long terme, mais cela aidera aussi l'Ontario à poursuivre sa croissance.

UN GOUVERNEMENT QUI FONCTIONNE MIEUX

Pour que l'économie reste forte, il faut que les gouvernements investissent les deniers publics de façon judicieuse dans des secteurs prioritaires, comme la santé, l'éducation et l'infrastructure. Les conseils scolaires, les hôpitaux, les municipalités, les collèges et les universités disent tous qu'ils pourraient améliorer leur planification s'ils recevaient un financement pluriannuel.

Votre gouvernement s'est engagé à assurer à ses partenaires un financement de base stable sur lequel ils puissent compter. En retour, les contribuables peuvent s'attendre à de meilleurs résultats et à une meilleure reddition de comptes dans ces secteurs.

Votre gouvernement estime aussi que les institutions qui sont habilitées à prendre des décisions en votre nom doivent faire preuve de responsabilité financière.

Ayant pris des mesures visant à renforcer la responsabilisation et la transparence dans le secteur public, votre gouvernement estime que les personnes dont les cotisations financent le fonctionnement de certaines organisations devraient aussi savoir comment leur argent est dépensé. C'est pourquoi il prendra des mesures pour obliger les syndicats à exercer leurs activités en appliquant des principes de démocratie, de transparence et de responsabilisation.

Pour assurer la prestation de services efficaces et de haute qualité et veiller à ce que les fonds servent aux fins prévues, votre gouvernement déposera un projet de loi prévoyant la création de postes de vérificateurs de la qualité dans les secteurs de la santé, de l'éducation et des services municipaux.

La responsabilité financière exige du gouvernement qu'il fasse preuve d'efficience dans tout ce qu'il fait, tout en offrant aux citoyens les meilleurs services au meilleur prix. Votre gouvernement continuera à trouver des façons de faire des économies internes et consacrera la pratique du budget base zéro.

Il y a déjà plusieurs années que votre gouvernement a commencé à améliorer les services publics. Bien que la fonction publique de l'Ontario ait été réduite de 23 pour 100, elle a reçu des distinctions internationales en reconnaissance de sa créativité et de son approche innovatrice en matière de service public. L'enregistrement d'une entreprise peut maintenant s'effectuer en 20 minutes et non plus six semaines. Des guichets automatiques ServiceOntario, placés dans les centres commerciaux locaux, permettent aux personnes qui le désirent de renouveler leur vignette d'immatriculation en quelques minutes. Mais il reste encore beaucoup à faire.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens étant des personnes actives et occupées, votre gouvernement offrira davantage de services en ligne, prolongera les heures de service au comptoir et augmentera le nombre des guichets automatiques du gouvernement.

Toutes ces mesures ont pour objet d'augmenter la responsabilité du gouvernement de l'Ontario et du secteur parapublic envers la clientèle qu'ils servent – la population ontarienne. Parce que notre démocratie est toujours en devenir, votre gouvernement est sans cesse en quête de nouvelles façons d'améliorer et de moderniser nos institutions démocratiques. Le processus de consultation qui est à l'origine du présent discours du Trône en est un exemple.

Pour encourager la démocratie directe, votre gouvernement a l'intention, pendant la présente session, de donner suite aux recommandations du comité permanent de l'Assemblée législative. Il encouragera le vote libre sur les projets de loi de député, proposera de doubler le temps consacré aux affaires émanant des députés et d'autoriser ceux-ci à coparrainer des projets de loi. Il augmentera les possibilités d'intervention des membres du public en leur permettant, par exemple, de déposer des pétitions par Internet. Il organisera aussi des réunions provinciales-régionales du Conseil des ministres.

DES COLLECTIVITÉS VIGOUREUSES ET SÛRES

Votre gouvernement prend toutes les mesures possibles pour assurer la sécurité de la population, protéger l'économie de la province et assurer la libre circulation des véhicules et des marchandises à nos frontières. C'est pourquoi il continuera à promouvoir l'établissement d'un périmètre de sécurité nord-américain.

Des équipes spéciales ont été mises en place pour lutter contre le crime organisé. Le gouvernement a affecté des fonds au recrutement de plus de 1 000 nouveaux agents de police et a embauché 165 agents de probation et de libération conditionnelle. Il s'engage à augmenter encore le financement affecté à ce secteur.

La Police provinciale de l'Ontario a une longue tradition d'aide aux pays dans le besoin, comme le Kosovo ou la Sierra Leone. Nos amis américains ont demandé de l'aide en Iraq, et votre gouvernement examinera avec la Police provinciale de l'Ontario comment il peut répondre à cette requête.

Chez nous, en Ontario, votre gouvernement tient à ce que les criminels sachent que le crime ne paie pas.

Les Ontariennes et les Ontariens ne méritent rien de moins.

Votre gouvernement croit que les enfants, les victimes et les autres membres vulnérables de la société ont droit à une protection spéciale aux termes de la loi. Ceux qui cherchent à nuire aux innocents méritent les punitions les plus sévères.

C'est aussi pour cela que votre gouvernement luttera contre les mauvais traitements infligés aux enfants, en augmentant notamment les ressources de première ligne consacrées à la lutte contre la pornographie juvénile. Il fournira également des ressources supplémentaires pour soustraire les enfants à l'exploitation sexuelle, renforcera sa stratégie à l'égard des contrevenants à risque élevé et jugera les causes relatives à l'exploitation des enfants dans des tribunaux spéciaux – conformément aux dispositions prises avec l'appareil judiciaire.

C'est aussi pour cela que votre gouvernement apportera un soutien aux victimes d'actes criminels et luttera contre la criminalité en mettant en place des services de surveillance des appels et de blocage des appels dans les prisons provinciales afin d'empêcher les criminels de harceler les victimes ou leur famille. Il étendra les services communautaires offerts aux victimes. Il a adopté une loi qui permet aux victimes de mieux faire entendre leur voix en leur accordant le droit de parole lors des audiences de libération conditionnelle.

Pour mieux protéger le public et la police, le gouvernement élaborera un ensemble de réformes destinées à combattre avec efficacité les crimes commis avec une arme à feu.

Afin d'éliminer le fléau que constitue la conduite en état d'ivresse, votre gouvernement établira des peines encore plus sévères pour punir ce genre de comportement. Il proposera un projet de loi qui prévoira la suspension à vie du permis de conduire en cas de deuxième condamnation pour conduite en état d'ivresse et ordonnera la saisie du véhicule, le cas échéant.

Votre gouvernement proposera également une « loi anticitrons » pour protéger les acheteurs de biens de consommation contre les frais occasionnés par la réparation de défauts cachés et coûteux. Il augmentera l'accès aux cours des petites créances pour permettre à davantage de citoyens de faire entendre leurs préoccupations et leurs plaintes.

Toutefois, ce n'est pas simplement de la force de la loi que les collectivités tirent leur cohésion, mais bien des relations quotidiennes entre les gens.

Beaucoup d'Ontariennes et Ontariens aiment participer à des activités artistiques et culturelles. La talentueuse communauté artistique de l'Ontario est non seulement une source d'enrichissement culturel pour chacun d'entre nous, mais elle contribue au développement de collectivités dynamiques. C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement étendra son Fonds de dotation pour les arts, dont le succès est remarquable. Il lancera aussi une nouvelle initiative, par l'intermédiaire du Conseil des arts de l'Ontario, pour soutenir la croissance de nouvelles entreprises et la formation dans le secteur des arts.

L'ONTARIO – UNE BELLE HISTOIRE DE CROISSANCE

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens méritent d'être gouvernés par des gens qui tiennent compte des besoins présents et à venir de la population, et de ceux des générations à venir. Ils attendent de leurs leaders non seulement qu'ils soient conscients de la promesse que représente l'Ontario, mais qu'ils disposent aussi d'un plan exhaustif pour la concrétiser.

Avec la stratégie de croissance intelligente, c'est la première fois depuis des décennies qu'un gouvernement ontarien adopte une vision globale suffisamment forte pour avoir un effet sur la vie des citoyennes et citoyens dans 10, 20 ou 30 ans.

La croissance intelligente encouragera un développement ordonné et planifié, tout en protégeant notre environnement et nos terres agricoles. Elle permettra de réduire les embouteillages, de donner à ceux qui le désirent la possibilité de s'installer à proximité d'espaces verts et de veiller à ce que l'air et l'eau de l'Ontario soient les plus purs du monde.

Les cinq comités des initiatives de croissance intelligente sont constitués de leaders communautaires spécialisés dans des domaines très divers: secteur municipal, environnement, secteur de l'aménagement, transports et enseignement.

Votre gouvernement a déjà reçu les commentaires de l'un de ses comités et remercie les membres qui y ont participé de leurs réflexions et de leur dévouement. Il travaillera avec des représentants des comités et de la population à la concrétisation de leur vision d'un développement local ordonné. Au cours des semaines qui viennent, votre gouvernement annoncera les mesures qu'il compte prendre pour améliorer la planification urbaine, les transports en commun, les transports et la protection de l'environnement.

Votre gouvernement sait bien que la prospérité n'est pas le fait du hasard. La création d'une économie robuste, la promotion d'un environnement sain et le développement de collectivités solides nécessitent une planification bien pensée et des investissements judicieux.

Notre réseau routier est un élément essentiel au bon fonctionnement de notre province. Il importe, en outre, de maintenir une circulation fluide et efficace pour faciliter la vie des personnes qui travaillent et de leur famille.

C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement améliorera notre système de transport – les transports publics comme les routes – pour contribuer au renforcement de l'économie et au développement de collectivités plus vigoureuses. Depuis 1995, votre gouvernement a investi plus de 3,6 milliards de dollars dans les transports publics et 7,5 milliards de dollars dans le réseau routier. Alors qu'il continue ses investissements records dans les transports publics, il encourage ses homologues fédéraux à devenir partenaires à part entière du plan d'investissement dans les transports en commun de l'Ontario.

Votre gouvernement se prépare aussi à l'avenir en investissant dans l'infrastructure municipale. Au cours des cinq prochaines années, il affectera plus de 1,6 milliard de dollars à la mise en place de l'infrastructure dont les collectivités rurales ont besoin pour soutenir une économie en expansion.

Votre gouvernement s'est engagé à collaborer avec les administrations municipales pour assurer le respect de nouvelles normes rigoureuses en matière de salubrité de l'eau potable. Il veillera à l'adoption par l'Ontario des normes les plus strictes au monde pour que l'eau potable soit propre et sans danger, au respect de ces normes et à la mise en œuvre de toutes les recommandations du commissaire O'Connor.

Votre gouvernement reconnaît les difficultés auxquelles sont confrontées certaines municipalités. Il travaillera avec elles et avec le gouvernement fédéral pour les aider à répondre à leurs besoins de financement, dans le respect du principe de la responsabilité envers les contribuables.

Pour encourager le développement et la croissance dans le Nord, votre gouvernement a investi près de 500 millions de dollars depuis 1996 dans plus de 1 400 projets du Fonds du patrimoine du Nord de l'Ontario. Ces projets ont également reçu 1,2 milliard de dollars supplémentaires provenant de partenaires des secteurs municipaux et privés, et cela permettra de créer quelque 17 750 nouveaux emplois.

Votre gouvernement est déterminé à soutenir la recherche et l'innovation scientifiques et technologiques. Depuis le budget de 1997, il a annoncé des investissements de près de 4,2 milliards de dollars dans le secteur de la science et de la technologie qui devraient générer un apport supplémentaire de 5,2 milliards de dollars provenant d'autres partenaires, ce qui porte le montant total à 9,4 milliards de dollars. En investissant dans la recherche-développement aujourd'hui, nous assurons à nos jeunes un avenir prometteur, où qu'ils vivent en Ontario.

Votre gouvernement s'est engagé à créer des zones d'incitatifs fiscaux pour encourager les petites comme les grandes entreprises à investir, à déménager ou à prendre de l'expansion dans les collectivités rurales et du Nord. Cela sera une source de croissance économique et donnera aux jeunes la possibilité de rester dans les collectivités où ils ont grandi.

Pour aider à réduire les coûts de financement de l'infrastructure assumés par les municipalités, votre gouvernement a créé un programme d'obligations de financement de projets municipaux. Il procédera à une injection de capitaux de 1 milliard de dollars pour faciliter le démarrage de ce programme.

Ces obligations font partie de la mise en œuvre de la stratégie de croissance intelligente adoptée par votre gouvernement en faveur d'une économie vigoureuse, de collectivités dynamiques et d'un environnement propre et sain. Elles permettront aux municipalités d'emprunter de l'argent à un taux d'intérêt de 50 pour 100 inférieur à ceux du marché, ce qui réduira le coût de la dette municipale.

Pour protéger la beauté de notre province et restaurer notre fierté, votre gouvernement a l'intention de faire couper l'herbe régulièrement le long des routes provinciales et d'instaurer un programme de réduction des déchets sauvages. C'est également dans cet esprit qu'il embellira les points d'entrée en Ontario.

Votre gouvernement continuera à protéger le patrimoine naturel de la province grâce au programme Patrimoine vital de l'Ontario. Il déposera un projet de loi pour préserver la région caractéristique des Hautes-Terres de Kawartha et travaillera à la protection d'autres régions, comme le bassin du lac Nipigon.

Afin de sauvegarder des sites uniques et de grande valeur, de promouvoir le tourisme et de préserver le patrimoine naturel de l'Ontario pour les générations futures, votre gouvernement créera de nouvelles possibilités touristiques tout le long du Littoral du patrimoine des Grands Lacs. Il contribuera aussi à la création de l'Aire marine nationale de conservation du Lac Supérieur qui sera la plus grande réserve d'eau douce du monde.

Votre gouvernement croit que nous respectons la promesse de l'Ontario non seulement par ce que nous sommes capables de construire, mais par ce que nous choisissons de préserver.

CONCLUSION

Votre gouvernement a entamé son processus innovateur de consultations sur le discours du Trône avec un objectif simple en tête : laisser aux citoyennes et citoyens de notre merveilleuse province le soin d'orienter ses projets et ses priorités pour les années à venir.

Plus de 10 000 Ontariennes et Ontariens ont participé à ce processus et ont répondu à l'invitation du gouvernement, en ligne, par télécopieur, par la poste et en personne.

Votre gouvernement s'est laissé guider par la population ontarienne. Il n'hésitera pas à prendre les décisions difficiles nécessaires pour préserver la vitalité de l'Ontario, mais il restera fidèle à la formule très simple en quatre étapes qui a inspiré toutes ses décisions.

Il demandera son avis à la population.

Celle-ci lui répondra.

Il l'écouterà.

Il prendra les mesures voulues.

Votre gouvernement croit fermement que cette approche est au cœur de la démocratie et donne tout son sens au leadership.

Ce n'est qu'en travaillant ensemble que nous pourrons tirer parti de la force de notre économie, définir nos priorités et investir en conséquence, et réaliser ainsi la promesse de l'Ontario.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont toujours eu conscience de cette promesse. Elle est présente dans les infinies richesses naturelles de notre province, dans ses industries fières et productives, dans la vigueur de son tissu social.

Mais surtout, les Ontariennes et Ontariens savent qu'ils représentent une promesse les uns pour les autres.

Ils la perçoivent dans nos enfants, dont la vie sera orientée par des écoles dynamiques, protégée par des quartiers sûrs et riche de possibilités.

Dans les nouveaux immigrants, qui trouveront en Ontario la sécurité et le brillant avenir dont ils rêvent.

Dans nos personnes âgées, dont l'expérience, les sacrifices et la sagesse nous inspirent, nous, nos enfants et les générations à venir.

Nous avons travaillé trop fort – et nous sommes arrivés trop loin – pour nous détourner maintenant de notre promesse.

La promesse de l'Ontario est notre inspiration. Elle guide votre gouvernement dans ses décisions. Elle guide la population de notre province dans ses efforts pour nous préparer à tous un avenir meilleur.

Que Dieu continue à bénir l'Ontario et le Canada.

Qu'Il inspire toutes les personnes qui sont au service de l'État, pour qu'elles utilisent leur pouvoir avec sagesse et clairvoyance.

Dieu protège la Reine.

Mr. McGuinty moved,

ORDRE DU JOUR

Le débat reprend sur la motion portant l'Adresse en réponse au discours prononcé par Son Honneur le lieutenant-gouverneur à l'ouverture de la session.

Après quelque temps,

That the Address in Reply to the Speech of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor at the opening of this session be amended by striking out all the words after, "We, Her Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the province of Ontario," and substitute the following:

"Whereas Ontarians want a real and positive change;

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will fix the vital public services that we all need while keeping the budget in balance and holding the line on taxes;

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will cancel the $3.2 billion tax giveaway to large corporations and put that money toward improved health care, with more doctors and nurses and shorter waiting lists;

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will cancel the private school tax credit and put that money back into improving our public schools through smaller class sizes;

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will end taxpayer funded self-serving partisan advertising and put that money toward improving our water quality monitoring system and improving our air by closing coal-fired plants and mandating cleaner gasoline;

Whereas the speech from the Throne proved that the Eves government has been dithering, continues to support two-tier health care, private school tax credits, giveaways to large corporations, taxpayer funded self-serving advertising and compromised environmental protection;

Therefore, this House profoundly regrets that nothing has changed. The Eves government is tired, cynical, out of touch, out of steam and out of ideas, and instead of providing the real and positive change Ontarians demand, are only looking out for themselves and their friends."

After some time, it was,

On motion by Mr. Bisson,

Ordered, That the debate be adjourned.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Debate was resumed on the Amendment to the Motion for an Address in Reply to the Speech of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor at the Opening of the Session.

After some time, Mr. Hampton moved,

That the amendment to the motion be amended by striking out all the words after, "Whereas Ontarians" and substitute the following:-

"have felt the impact of bad Conservative privatization policies where it hurts – in the pocketbook;

Whereas the Conservatives ignore evidence from around the world that privatization of public necessities – such as water, hydro, health, education – doesn't work and costs more;

Whereas Ontarians are looking for practical solutions that would:

- Stop hydro privatization and deregulation and ensure clean, reliable public power at cost.
- Extend public home care, create 100 new Community Health Centres and cut long-term care user fees. Cancel plans for private MRI/CT clinics and privately built hospitals and put funds back into public health care.
- Keep our drinking water public and protect water from source to tap.
- Ensure every student has the opportunity to excel, guaranteed by a dedicated Education Excellence Fund that takes the politics out of education funding. No public funds for private schools.
- Immediately increase the minimum wage to $8 an hour, prohibit scabs and treat injured workers fairly.
- Freeze rents for two years, build at least 32,000 units of affordable housing and increase shelter allowances.
- Cut tuition by 10 per cent and ensure that no student is denied a quality education or training for financial reasons.
- Lower transit fares, shorten waits and reduce gridlock with a dedicated transportation trust fund.
- Reduce child care fees to $10 a day for 18 month to 5 year olds in non-profit, regulated child care, and create 20,000 new child care spaces.
- Protect your pension from inflation and let you take it with you from job to job.

Therefore this House endorses an agenda of public power."

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

Members will be aware that there appears on today's Orders and Notices Paper, two notices of an Opposition Day to be debated next week.

Under Standing Order 42(d), the Speaker is required to select one of these notices for consideration, taking into account the order in which they were received.

I would like to advise Members that the motion by Mr. Bradley will be the one that will be selected for debate next week.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Thursday, May 1, 2003, the Member for Renfrew-Nipissing-Pembroke (Mr. Conway) rose on a question of privilege to indicate that the circumstances surrounding the presentation of the Budget speech in a private facility in Brampton on March 27, 2003, a day on which the Legislature stood prorogued, amounted to a prima facie case of contempt of the House. According to the Member, the events of that day were an offence against the authority and dignity of the House. He also indicated that the government made a clear and deliberative choice to deliver a Budget outside the House, thereby offending the convention of responsible government and undermining the financial function of Parliament.

The Member for Niagara Centre (Mr. Kormos) also spoke to the incident. According to the Member, the government breached the constitutional convention of presenting the Budget in the House. He indicated that the breach was conscious and premeditated, that the Budget was presented in a controlled environment with invited guests, that Budgets are confidence matters, and that the Speaker has the authority to remedy the breach.

The Government House Leader (Mr. Stockwell) responded to these arguments by indicating that the Speaker cannot deal with constitutional arguments, and that a Budget process should not be characterized as a matter of contempt; if anything, it is a matter of order, and as such the process that occurred on March 27 did not offend any Standing Order, practice or precedent.

I have had an opportunity to review the Hansard for last Thursday, the written submissions of the Member for Renfrew-Nipissing-Pembroke and the Member for Niagara Centre, and the relevant Standing Orders, precedents, practices and authorities.

I begin by addressing the arguments that were raised concerning the constitutionality of the Budget presentation, or the question of whether a constitutional convention exists respecting the Budget process.

As Members will know, Speakers have ruled on numerous occasions that it is not open to the Speaker to give a decision upon a constitutional question or decide a question of law.

It is settled in our precedents, and indeed in the practices and precedents of parliaments throughout the Commonwealth, that legal and constitutional issues are best left to the courts and to litigants.

For instance, the 4th edition of Australia's House of Representatives Practice indicates the following (at pages 189 and 190):

[T]he obligation to interpret the Constitution does not rest with the Chair.... [T]he only body fully entitled to do so is the High Court. Not even the House has the power to finally interpret the terms of the Constitution.... [I]t is not the duty of the Speaker to give a decision on (to interpret) a question of law....

Citation 168(5) of the 6th edition of Beauchesne states that "[t]he Speaker will not give a decision upon a constitutional question nor decide a question of law, though the same may be raised on a point of order or privilege," as indeed has occurred here.

Therefore, the Speaker has no authority to make a determination of prima facie breach of privilege or contempt where such a determination is based on the constitutionality or legality of the presentation of the March 27 Budget outside the House; this House is not the proper place for those questions to be resolved. However, I will consider the case that has been made by the Member for Renfrew-Nipissing-Pembroke and the Member for Niagara Centre to the extent that it does not put the Speaker in the position of having to decide a constitutional or legal issue.

Before doing so, I want to reflect on the argument of the Government House Leader, who suggests that the Speaker should address the Budget issue by looking to the Standing Orders. He also suggests that if the Standing Orders do not resolve the matter, then and only then the Speaker should look to practice and precedent, and that if practice and precedent do not resolve the matter, then and only then the Speaker should look to the parliamentary authorities. In effect, the Government House Leader contends that the Budget process on March 27 was in order and that as such it is not a matter of contempt. In view of this argument, I shall initially address whether anything about that process raises a matter of order.

By way of background, it should be noted that on March 27, just before the Minister of Finance presented the Budget in Brampton, the Budget and related papers were deposited with the Clerk of the House pursuant to Standing Order 39(a). That Standing Order reads as follows:

Reports, returns and other documents required to be laid before the House by any Act of the Assembly or under any Standing Order or Resolution of the House, or that any minister wishes to present to the House, may be deposited with the Clerk of the House, whether or not on a Sessional day, and such report, return or other document shall be deemed for all purposes to have been presented to or laid before the House. A record of any such document shall be entered in the Votes and Proceedings on the day it is filed except that where it is filed on a day that is not a Sessional day, it shall be entered in the Votes and Proceedings of the next Sessional day.

Standing Order 39(a) does not specifically indicate whether the Budget and related papers are "documents" within the meaning of that Standing Order. However, it gives ministers a wide latitude to deposit with the Clerk of the House any documents they wish to present to the House -- and even if the House is not meeting. I appreciate that Standing Orders 57 and 58 provide for a Budget process inside the House, but they do not prohibit a supplementary Budget presentation outside the House. I doubt that the House contemplated the occurrence of a supplementary Budget process outside the House when it created Standing Order 39(a), but I am satisfied that the House intended that this Standing Order should be given a broad interpretation, and so that is what I am giving it.

I am reinforced in this view by the knowledge that on April 20, 1988 the Votes and Proceedings, which were published under the authority of Speaker Edighoffer, indicate that the Budget and Budget papers were deposited with the Clerk of the House pursuant to what is now Standing Order 39(a).

I appreciate that the procedural circumstances in 1988 were different than what they are in 2003. In 1988, the calculated reading of petitions in the House by Members of one of the Opposition parties prevented the Treasurer from making the traditional Budget presentation and speech on the floor of the House on Budget day. In addition, the House had denied the Treasurer's request for unanimous consent to end the routine proceeding "Petitions" at 4 p.m. on Budget day so that he could move the Budget motion and present the Budget. In the wake of these developments, the Treasurer deposited the Budget and related papers with the Clerk of the House in order to protect the confidentiality of the Budget process and to release the lock-up. I refer Members to page 142 of the Journals and pages 2654 and 2655 of the Hansard for April 20, 1988. These extenuating circumstances were not present in the 2003 Budget process. Even if they were, I cannot see how they are relevant to determining whether or not the deposit of a particular document with the Clerk of the House pursuant to Standing Order 39(a) is a matter of order, the interpretation of which does not turn on the presence or absence of extenuating circumstances.

The other distinguishing feature about the 1988 Budget process is that the House was actually meeting. In the case before me now, the House was not meeting because the Legislature had been prorogued on March 12. I have reflected on whether the Standing Orders permit the Budget to be deposited with the Clerk of the House after the Legislature has been prorogued. I find that our practice has been that all manner of documents have been deposited with the Clerk of the House in the intersession period, and that these documents have been recorded in the Votes and Proceedings soon after the commencement of the new session. On this point, I refer Members to the Votes and Proceedings for May 1, which indicates (at pages 9 and 10) that 37 items, including the 2003 Budget and related papers, were tabled in the interval between the third and fourth sessions.

If there was nothing out of order concerning the deposit of the Budget and related papers on March 27, was there anything out of order in what the government did next? I am referring here to the Budget-like speech by the Minister of Finance, in a private facility, not inside the House or the precincts, before an invitation-only audience selected by the government. The argument was made that the government was not respecting the traditions of the House -- in particular, the tradition that the Budget should be presented formally in the House.

Looking to our precedents, I note that, apart from the 1988 Budget incident, there have been other occasions when a Budget or a Budget-type speech has not been presented inside the House. On April 21, 1993, Speaker Warner made the following statement (at page 160 of the Hansard for that day) concerning the government's intention to present its Social Contract proposals, which some Members referred to as a mini-Budget, outside the House:

I think the honourable Member for Parry Sound knows my views on this subject. I hold a very strong view that matters of substance dealing with Parliament should be announced in Parliament. I think that's a very sound principle.

The Member will also know that for better or worse there is nothing in our standing orders or procedures which compels ministers to make statements in the House, including budgets, and indeed there is nothing out of order about announcing a budget outside of the House, and if memory serves, that in fact has occurred in this province.

But I would reiterate that all matters of substance of a parliamentary nature should be made here. I have no control over making that happen. I can only ask that people do that.

Immediately thereafter, the House refused a request for unanimous consent to allow the Treasurer to present his proposals to the House.

And on Budget day in 2001, the House refused two government requests for unanimous consent to recess the House so that the Budget could be presented to the House. After the first request was refused, the Speaker indicated that "if there is not unanimous consent [to recess], the Minister of Finance does not need to read the speech in here." Shortly after this ruling, the Budget speech was delivered in the House when the government was able to secure the adjournment of the House, which does not require unanimous consent. I refer Members to pages 559 to 562 of the Hansard for May 9, 2001.

What I am essentially saying, then, is that the 2003 Budget process does not raise a matter of order. The Government House Leader submits that if that is so, then that process is not a matter of contempt. I disagree because 'order' is conceptually distinct from both 'privilege' and 'contempt'. To exemplify the distinction, let me refer to the January 22, 1997 ruling that was mentioned by the Member for Renfrew-Nipissing-Pembroke. In that ruling, a Member rose on a question of privilege to indicate that government advertising amounted to contempt of the House, and the Speaker responded by finding that a prima facie case of contempt was established. Like the case before me now, the impugned incident occurred outside the House and the precincts. Were I to accept the Government House Leader's argument, it would have been open to the Speaker in 1997 to rule that there was no prima facie case of contempt -- and that it was not necessary for him to consider the merits of the arguments based on contempt -- because the advertising in question did not offend a House rule. In short, then, I say that a finding that nothing is out of order about the Budget process does not preclude the Speaker from assessing the merits of the arguments based on contempt. The tiered process that the Government House Leader referred to -- that is, first the Standing Orders, then practice and precedent, and then the authorities -- is applied to consideration of matters of order, not matters of privilege or contempt.

Before turning to those arguments, I want to explain the meaning of contempt, and the best way to do that is to first explain the meaning of privilege. Parliamentary privilege is defined at page 65 of the 22nd edition of Erskine May. Like Erskine May, Standing Order 21(a) indicates that there are two overarching categories of privilege. The first category consists of privileges that are enjoyed by the House collectively -- the power to discipline (that is, the right to punish persons guilty of breach of privilege or contempts, and the power to expel Members), the right to regulate its own internal affairs, the authority to maintain the attendance and service of its Members, the right to institute inquiries and to call witnesses and demand papers, the right to administer oaths to witnesses, and the right to publish papers containing defamatory materials. The second category consists of privileges that are enjoyed by individual Members -- freedom of speech, freedom from arrest in civil actions, exemption from jury duty, and exemption from attendance as a witness in the courts.

Having outlined the meaning of privilege, I want to refer to a May 9, 1983 precedent in which Speaker Turner ruled on a question of privilege concerning a Budget leak. The Speaker made the following ruling, which can be found at pages 38 and 39 of the Journals for that day:

Budget secrecy is a political convention as is the practice that the Treasurer presents his budget in the House before discussing it in any other public forum. It has nothing to do with parliamentary privilege.

As I stated in my ruling of February 1st, 1983, "although it is a courtesy to the Assembly for a Minister to release information in the Assembly before releasing it to the press or the public, it is not a breach of the privileges or rules of the Assembly if this does not happen."

In effect, Speaker Turner stated that the presentation of the Budget was not a matter that fell under any head of collective or individual privilege. Given this ruling, I find that a prima facie case of privilege has not been established with respect to the presentation of the 2003 Budget outside the House.

I now turn to the issue of whether the 2003 Budget process raises a matter of contempt. Let me begin this part of the ruling by indicating that Erskine May defines contempt in the following terms (at pages 108, 117, and 120 of the 22nd edition):

Generally speaking, any act or omission which obstructs or impedes either House of Parliament in the performance of its functions, or which obstructs or impedes any Member or officer of such House in the discharge of his duty, or which has a tendency, directly or indirectly, to produce such results may be treated as a contempt even though there is no precedent of the offence. It is therefore impossible to list every act which might be considered to amount to a contempt, the power to punish for such an offence being of its nature discretionary....

Indignities offered to the House by words spoken or writings published reflecting on its character or proceedings have been punished by both the Lords and the Commons upon the principle that such acts tend to obstruct the Houses in the performance of their functions by diminishing the respect due to them.

Other acts besides words spoken or writings published reflecting upon either House or its proceedings which, though they do not tend directly to obstruct or impede either House in the performance of its functions, yet have a tendency to produce this result indirectly by bringing such House into odium, contempt or ridicule or by lowering its authority may constitute contempts.

That is what Erskine May says on contempt.

In the Canadian House of Commons, on October 10, 1989, Speaker Fraser explained the difference between privilege and contempt in the following terms (at page 4459 of the Hansard for that day):

[A]ll breaches of privileges are contempts of the House, but not all contempts are necessarily breaches of privilege. A contempt may be an act or an omission; it does not have to actually obstruct or impede the House or a Member[:]; it merely has to have the tendency to produce such results. Matters ranging from minor breaches of decorum to grave attacks against the authority of Parliament may be considered as contempts.

Maingot's Parliamentary Privilege in Canada indicates that contempt cannot be codified -- it has no limits. It states the following (at pages 226 and 227 of the 2nd edition):

[T]he "privileges" of the House cannot be exhaustively codified; there are many acts or omissions that might occur where the House would feel compelled to find that a contempt has taken place, even though such acts or omissions do not amount to an attack on or disregard for any of the enumerated rights and immunities.

As a Speaker said, "...the dimension of contempt of Parliament is such that the House will not be constrained in finding a breach of privileges of Members, or of the House. This is precisely the reason that, while our privileges are defined, contempt of the House has no limits. When new ways are found to interfere with our proceedings, so too will the House, in appropriate cases, be able to find that a contempt of the House has occurred."

I also want to remind Members that the authority to decide whether or not there is a contempt of the House resides with the House -- not with the Speaker. In this regard, Maingot states the following (at page 221):

While the Speaker may find that a prima facie case of privilege exists and give the matter precedence in debate, it is the House alone that decides whether a breach of privilege or a contempt has occurred, for only the House has the power to commit or punish for contempt.

How, then, does the Speaker decide whether or not a prima facie case has been made out? Again, Maingot is helpful in this regard. It states the following (at pages 221 and 227):

A prima facie case of privilege in the parliamentary sense is one where the evidence on its face as outlined by the Member is sufficiently strong for the House to be asked to debate the matter....

If the Speaker feels any doubt on the question, he should ... leave it to the House.

Having reflected on these authorities, I will apply them to the case before me now. It is hard to recall a time in recent memory when a matter of parliamentary process has so incensed people inside and outside this province. Many Ontarians from all walks of life have complained in an overwhelmingly negative way -- to my office, to Members directly, through various media, and to the government itself -- that the government's approach to communicating the 2003 Budget to Ontarians has undermined parliamentary institutions and processes.

As I have already indicated, there have been occasions in the past when a Minister of Finance or a Treasurer has neither personally presented the Budget in the House nor read the Budget speech in the House. In the case at hand, however, the government indicated that the events of March 27 were motivated by a desire (in the words of a March 12 press release issued by the Ministry of Finance) to have "a direct conversation with the people of Ontario."

To the extent that they imply that parliamentary institutions and processes in Ontario tend to interfere with the government's message to the public, such statements tend to reflect adversely on those institutions and processes. If the government has a problem with those institutions and processes, or if it wants to improve them, why did it not ask the House sometime during the last session to reflect on the problem and to consider appropriate changes? Traditional ways to do just that would be to introduce a bill, table a notice of motion, enter into discussions at the level of the House Leaders, or ask the Standing Committee on the Legislative Assembly to study and report on the problem. Given the public's reaction to the government's decision to stage a Budget presentation outside the House, I think Ontarians are rather fond of their traditional parliamentary institutions and parliamentary processes, and they want greater deference to be shown towards the traditional parliamentary forum in which public policies are proposed, debated and voted on.

When the government or a Member claims that a Budget presentation is needed outside the House well before it happens inside the House in order to communicate directly to the people or because of a perceived flaw in the parliamentary institution, there is a danger that the representative role of each and every Member of this House is undermined, that respect for the institution is diminished, and that Parliament is rendered irrelevant. Parliamentary democracy is not vindicated by the government conducting a generally one-sided public relations event on the Budget well in advance of Members having an opportunity to hold the government to account for the Budget in this Chamber.

I can well appreciate that parliamentary proceedings can be animated and often emotional, and they can be cumbersome. It may not be the most efficient of political systems, but it is a process that reflects the reality that Members, like the people of Ontario, may not be of one mind on matters of public policy. A mature parliamentary democracy is not a docile, esoteric or one-way communications vehicle; it is a dynamic, interactive and representative institution that allows the government of the day to propose and defend its policies -- financial and otherwise. It also allows the opposition to scrutinize and hold the government to account for those policies. It is an open, working and relevant system of scrutiny and accountability. If any Members of this House have a problem with the concept of parliamentary democracy, then they have some serious explaining to do.

I have a lingering unease about the road we are going down, and my sense is that the House and the general public have the same unease. Let me summarize it by posing the following questions:

- First, what does the planned presentation of a Budget speech outside the House suggest about the relevancy and primacy of Parliament? It is one thing not to make the traditional Budget presentation in the House because the government is backed into such a decision by an ongoing House process or a Budget leak; it is quite another for the government to have a deliberate plan not to do so.
- Second, if left unchallenged, will this incident not embolden future governments to create parallel, extra-parliamentary processes for other kinds of events that traditionally occur in the House?
- Third, why is an extra-parliamentary process needed if there is already a process in the House? If the answer is that it enables direct communication with the public, to what extent does such an answer undermine the representative, scrutiny and accountability functions of Parliament?

From where I stand, the 2003 Budget process has raised too many questions for the House not to reflect on them. In order to facilitate that exercise, I am finding that a prima facie case of contempt has been established. I want to reiterate that while I have found sufficient evidence to make such a finding, it is now up to the House to decide what to do. As I have said, only the House, not the Speaker, can make a finding that there has been a contempt of the House.

Before turning to the Member for Renfrew-Nipissing-Pembroke to move the appropriate motion, I want to thank him, the Member for Niagara Centre, and the Government House Leader for speaking to these matters last Thursday.

Mr. Conway then moved,

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Opposition Day

Mr. Hampton moved,

Be it resolved that in the opinion of this House the Government must act immediately to eliminate the severe hardship it has caused to customers of Great Lakes Power in Wawa and elsewhere as a direct result of electricity deregulation.

The Government must deliver immediate assistance to compensate the affected customers in full for the extra transmission and distribution costs they have paid as a result of deregulation. This must nullify the order that the affected customers pay based on cost of service and ensure that from now on they pay the same regulated rate as they paid prior to deregulation.

The Government must also implement the NDP Plan for Public Power and bring an end to electricity deregulation and privatization which is costing hundreds if not thousands of jobs in electricity-dependent sectors across Northern Ontario.

This House supports the NDP Plan which includes ending privatization and closing the wholesale electricity market while regulating the rate for the electricity commodity on the basis of power-at-cost and pursuing an aggressive program of energy conservation and renewable power development. After some time, the amendment to the amendment to the motion was put as follows:-

That the amendment to the motion be amended by striking out all the words after, "Whereas Ontarians" and substitute the following:-

"have felt the impact of bad Conservative privatization policies where it hurts – in the pocketbook;

Whereas the Conservatives ignore evidence from around the world that privatization of public necessities – such as water, hydro, health, education – doesn't work and costs more;

Whereas Ontarians are looking for practical solutions that would:

- Stop hydro privatization and deregulation and ensure clean, reliable public power at cost.
- Extend public home care, create 100 new Community Health Centres and cut long-term care user fees. Cancel plans for private MRI/CT clinics and privately built hospitals and put funds back into public health care.
- Keep our drinking water public and protect water from source to tap.
- Ensure every student has the opportunity to excel, guaranteed by a dedicated Education Excellence Fund that takes the politics out of education funding. No public funds for private schools.
- Immediately increase the minimum wage to $8 an hour, prohibit scabs and treat injured workers fairly.
- Freeze rents for two years, build at least 32,000 units of affordable housing and increase shelter allowances.
- Cut tuition by 10 per cent and ensure that no student is denied a quality education or training for financial reasons.

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will fix the vital public services that we all need while keeping the budget in balance and holding the line on taxes;

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will cancel the $3.2 billion tax giveaway to large corporations and put that money toward improved health care, with more doctors and nurses and shorter waiting lists;

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will cancel the private school tax credit and put that money back into improving our public schools through smaller class sizes;

Whereas Ontarians want a government that will end taxpayer funded self-serving partisan advertising and put that money toward improving our water quality monitoring system and improving our air by closing coal-fired plants and mandating cleaner gasoline;

Whereas the speech from the Throne proved that the Eves government has been dithering, continues to support two-tier health care, private school tax credits, giveaways to large corporations, taxpayer funded self-serving advertising and compromised environmental protection;

Therefore, this House profoundly regrets that nothing has changed. The Eves government is tired, cynical, out of touch, out of steam and out of ideas, and instead of providing the real and positive change Ontarians demand, are only looking out for themselves and their friends."
